

Giant Satellite Raises U. S. Space Sights Bomarc Fired at IBM Scores Hit Off Florida

Air Force, Press at Countdown First Time Missile 'Shot Recommended'

BY DICK MCCARTHY
Freeman Staff Writer

An historic first was scored today when an Air Force Bomarc missile—tenth fired from the Kingston IBM plant—registered "a hit" off Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12 noon today.

It was the first time in the history of Bomarc launchings that the missile was "recommended" to a second target after launching.

No warhead was used although the missile passed directly over the target, thereby scoring what Air Force personnel described as "a hit."

It took exactly five minutes from the time the missile was launched until it passed over the target.

Observed at IBM Here

The dramatic countdown was witnessed at the IBM plant here by Air Force personnel together with area and New York City newsmen who were the guests of the local plant for the day.

Air Force personnel explained that the missile was not directed to hit the target plane in order that instruments aboard could be returned to Cape Canaveral for study.

The "fire" button which launched the missile was pushed by Jack Coleman of Cherry Lane, Saugerties, an IBM engineer.

Keep Distance Secret

For security reasons Air Force officials declined to indicate the distance of the target from Canaveral but it was unofficially estimated that the target was traveling at an altitude of about 30,000 feet. Newsmen further estimated the target was traveling approximately 100 to 150 miles off the Florida coast.

It was stressed that today's firing was strictly a research and development shot, not operational.

Computer Nerve Center

The Bomarc weapon system is a surface-to-air missile system developed by Boeing. The SAGE system is a continental air warning network. Each SAGE installation contains a giant IBM computer which acts as the electronic nerve center of the system.

When Bomarc is integrated into the SAGE system it will be possible for the IBM computer to fire the missile automatically from a remote location and guide it in flight to a flying target.

Following today's launching newsmen were entertained at a buffet luncheon at the local IBM plant and taken on a tour of the Military Products facility.

Study Being Made For Raising Speed On Super Roads

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Engineers of the State Traffic Commission are examining the possibility of raising the speed limit beyond 50 miles an hour on sections of new superhighways.

The commission revealed Thursday that it had authorized its engineers to make the study.

Among highways being considered are sections of the Empire Stateway, the Northway, Route 17 west of the Thruway, and the Long Island Expressway.

The speed limit would not be raised along the length of these roads but in specific areas.

The sections under consideration have controlled access and are divided by a center mall, similar to the 60-mile-an-hour Thruway.

The commission has the authority to establish speed zones on state highways beyond the legal 50 miles an hour.

Grand Jury Makes Report

St. John Is Commended On DA Service 2 Terms

In the last report of a grand jury to be presided over by District Attorney Howard C. St. John prior to termination of his office, the December grand jury on Thursday afternoon returned nine sealed indictments, one open and four dismissals. All of the indictments were transferred to County court for disposition. The open indictment charged Theodore Humphrey with rape, first degree, alleged to have been committed on October 26, 1958, and involves a 12 year old girl.

Four Discharged

No bills were returned in the cases of The People vs. Arthur R. Cyr, Carl I. Hill, Dennis Wieder and Joseph E. Marelo and bail was canceled, or if defendant was in custody. The Court directed discharge.

Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth took note of the fact that this was the final report of a grand jury under District Attorney Howard C. St. John for his work during two terms of office. The grand jury also commended St. John, as well as other officers, Sheriff Bell and his assistants and also Judge Elsworth for the fine charge which had been delivered outlining the duties of the grand jury. ## Fire Badly Damages Napanoch Camp Hall

A large frame building, owned by Solomon Shapiro of New York City, formerly used as a dormitory and recreation hall for a boys' camp in the Shell Bungalow Colony in the hamlet of Napanoch was badly damaged by fire early today. The building was unoccupied.

State Police at Ellenville were notified at 6:50 a. m. Trooper M. J. Mahoney conducted an investigation.

Origin of the fire is unknown. Units of the Napanoch and Ellenville fire departments fought the blaze and brought it under control but the building was badly damaged.

The structure was located on Route 209 north of the hamlet of Napanoch.

Howard, Sammons Go Up; Hours, Course on Agenda

Two police department promotions were made last night by the police board which also considered a special finger-print training course and a new department work schedule.

Lemuel F. Howard, a sergeant for several years was named a lieutenant, and Frank E. Sammons, a detective since 1952 was made a sergeant.

Both officers had served as special patrolmen for some time before they became permanent members of the force.

Howard, who gained training at the Delahanty Institute, New York in 1931, went on duty as a special officer May 1, 1937. He was appointed a regular patrolman April 1, 1938 and became a sergeant Dec. 1, 1946.

A World War 2 veteran, Howard enlisted in the Seabees, U. S. Navy, on Oct. 26, 1943. He received special stevedore training and was assigned to the 38th Special Battalion, which operated from the west coast.

Former Detective Sammons served as a special officer from 1934 to 1940 and received permanent appointment Feb. 16, in the latter year. He was named detective in 1952 and served with Clarence Brophy who retired this year.

Sammons played varsity football at Kingston High School in 1922, and later was a member of the original Yellow Jackets, which he joined in 1926. He continued with them for three years.

Both men topped their respective eligibility lists.

A technical training course in proper finger-print methods, as proposed by Acting Chief Robert F. Murphy was approved by the board.

"If we are successful in securing this training," said Mayor (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Atlas Makes Major Impression

Scientific, Arms Prestige Goes Up

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's scientific and military prestige, a key element in the cold war, rebounded high today from the lows of double disaster a year ago.

A mighty U. S. Atlas rocket roared into orbit around the earth Thursday night. It became a satellite weighing between 8,700 and 8,800 pounds—three times heavier than the biggest Soviet Sputnik.

Comparison is Plain

That was a comparison easily understood by the man in the street in London, Moscow and New Delhi.

It carried significance too for the military officer and government official: the United States had a missile with power and control to dump a nuclear warhead on a target on another continent.

Of such stuff is made prestige that can bolster friends, give pause to enemies and nudge the vital in-betweeners' who want to lean with the winning side.

Impressive Comeback

The U. S. comeback seemed incredible in view of the shattering Soviet success starting with Sputnik I Oct. 4, 1957, a Pearl Harbor Day for U. S. prestige.

On Nov. 3 the Russians threw into orbit Sputnik II, carrying little dog Laika. The weight this time: a half ton.

On Dec. 6, Pearl Harbor Day again so far as U. S. prestige was concerned, America's first satellite-bearing rocket—a Navy Vanguard—blew up on its launching pad.

Midjet Against Rivals

Not until Jan. 31 of this year did the United States get its first foot in the satellite race. But the Army's Explorer I weighed only 31 pounds, a midjet against its Soviet rivals.

On March 17 the Navy finally got a satellite into orbit too, shooting Vanguard I to a record far point of 2,246 miles to give its satellite a top life expectancy of 200 years. But Vanguard I was a Lilliputian 3 1/4 pounds.

On May 15 the Russians tossed up Sputnik III, 2,929 pounds. It's still going.

Yet the American scientific show was coming to life. An atomic sub nosed under the arctic icecap. The Air force and the (Continued on Page 11, Col. 5)

Business Good Upstate

News Strike Cuts Mail Orders in N. Y.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Christmas business in Upstate New York is about par with last year's, merchants report. In New York City, a newspaper strike is hurting.

With good weather, merchants Upstate are optimistic that this year's business will be greater than last year's.

The unusually cold weather has resulted in heavy clothing being among the best sellers.

That's the commercial outlook for Christmas 1958 turned up by an Associated Press statewide survey of retailers and Chambers of Commerce.

As the strike of newspaper deliverers entered its second week, traffic in New York City stores declined. Mail order and telephone business is off sharply.

William A. Mills, executive vice president of the State Chamber of Commerce, said Upstate merchants generally were highly optimistic. This is reflected, he said, by the amount of money being invested in newspaper advertising.

After today, only four shopping days are left. Merchants expect a rush that will thrust sales as much as 5 per cent over last year, generally regarded as a good Christmas year.

Stores in some cities already are ahead of last year's pace.

One such report came from Sam Albion, who runs a large store in Utica. He added: "There is every indication that there is a lot of buying still to be done."

In Rochester, major department stores expect December business to be four per cent above 1957, a spokesman said.

Business in Syracuse, is slightly ahead of 1957, a record year, according to the chairman of the Chamber's retail merchants division. He predicted it would end up five per cent ahead of last year.

In Buffalo, the head of a department store said buying was about the same as last year. The president of the Retail Merchants Assn. noted a pickup in sales this week and predicted the final figure would be "a little bit ahead" of last year.

The manager of the Albany Chamber of Commerce said business "compares favorably" with last year.

"With good weather," he said, "we expect a very good wind-up."

Some Albany stores reported sales under the 1957 pace. But proprietors banked on next week to bring sales up.

A big Montgomery Ward store in nearby Menands is running about the same as last year, the manager said.

Tompkins Says Move on Greenberg Done to Stir Up Local Prejudice

The conduct of Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, assigned by Governor Harriman to preside over the special Ulster County "kickback" investigation, "throughout the entire investigation to date reflects nothing but credit on his integrity and judicial temperament" and there is no valid reason why he should disqualify himself.

That is the statement made by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins in a brief filed Thursday with the Appellate Division, Supreme Court, in the appeal from an order of Justice Greenberg adjudging the appellant, Morgan D. Ryan, guilty of criminal contempt of court.

Ryan is under $500 bail pending appeal from a 30-day jail sentence imposed by Justice Greenberg in connection with Ryan's "wilful refusal" to answer legal and proper interrogations before the special grand jury which is conducting a probe into road oil kickback allegations.

Tompkins View

In the brief filed yesterday by Tompkins in support of his request that the court deny the application of Ryan's counsel, N. Le Van Haver, for disqualification of Justice Greenberg, it is stated that the motion to have Justice Greenberg

Fuel Package Deal Accepted

Cashdollar Says Road Oil Price Study Vital

A contract to furnish fuel oil for the township of Woodstock was awarded to Amos Post, Inc. of Catskill by the Woodstock Town Board at last night's monthly meeting at town hall.

The bid by the Catskill company was not the lowest of the four submitted, but the members of the board accepted it by a unanimous vote on the grounds that the package deal offered by Post company was the best.

The Post bid stipulated it would furnish fuel oil at the tank-wagon price, minus half a cent. The prevailing rate is 14.8 cents, the cost to the Woodstock board being 14.3 cents.

Tank, Free Service

The Post offer also promised free service during the life of the contract and provisions for a tank. Lowest bidder was submitted by Walter Davenport Sons of High Falls at 13.3 cents per gallon, service at the rate of $3.00 an hour, with no mention of a tank.

Ulster Distributing Company of Sleightsburg offered oil at 14.3 cents per gallon, with an annual service charge of $25.00 and a tank at the cost of $150.00. A. R. Newcombe Corp. of Kingston submitted a bid of 14.8 cents per gallon, made no stipulation for services and proposed a 1,000 gallon tank at cost.

Discussion on Oil

The meeting, a long and protracted one, was adjourned at 11:30 p. m. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

620 Traffic Deaths Predicted for Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council today estimated that 620 Americans will be killed in traffic accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday period. The period will begin at 6 p. m. (local time) Wednesday, Dec. 24, and will end at midnight Sunday, Dec. 27.

"Those deaths need not occur and should not occur," the council said.

And it provided this prescription for driving and staying alive:

Start early, cut speed to meet traffic and weather conditions, pull off the road if you feel tired or sleepy.

If you've been drinking, the council added, don't drive.

Traffic deaths during last year's Christmas holiday period of one day totaled 225.

The record death toll for a four-day Christmas holiday period was 706 in 1956.

Atlas Is Largest to Orbit Yet Promises Untold Help for Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. rocketmen hurled a four-ton satellite into orbit around the earth Thursday night in a giant stride toward outer space and man's mastery there.

The feat, dramatically announced by President Eisenhower at a White House diplomatic dinner, gave this country the biggest known manmade object now swinging around the planet. The new Pullman car-size satellite dwarfs the 2,919 pounds of Russia's Sputnik III launched last May 15. It comes close to, or surpasses the bulk of the Soviet carrier rocket which went separately into orbit but plunged to its death Dec. 7.

Two Great Features

But even more significant from the rocketmen's viewpoint are two other features:

The space traveler, dubbed "Operation Score," carries two-way communications which promise untold practical benefits for the future.

And it was pointed into its path by an internal guidance system, rather than being sent on a present course like a bullet—a long step toward true space navigation.

Talk of Man Aboard

Triumph over the success of their project, American scientists quickly raised their space sights. They began talking about putting a man aboard another such vehicle and sending it to Venus or Mars.

President Eisenhower called it "a distinct step forward... (which) opens new opportunities to the United States and all mankind." The Pentagon echoed his words, accentuating the peaceful aspects of launching a satellite the size of a Pullman car.

But early comment from members of Congress indicated a preference to dwell on what it means in military terms.

Moscow Reaction Favorable

And even in Moscow, celebrating the 3,000th birthday of Sputnik III, man-in-the-street reaction was bereft of any official comment, approached a cab driver who said: "Good. It gives us competition."

Eisenhower broke the news dramatically at a White House state dinner for diplomats. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty and Pentagon officials spread the word to reporters and the world.

85 Feet Long

The Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile was launched at 6:02 p. m. Thursday from Cape Canaveral, Fla. The whole thing, 85 feet long and 10 feet wide, went into orbit.

It is the biggest known man-made object in space.

State Plans Law Changes To Prevent School Fires

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The state is preparing an overhaul of laws and regulations to prevent school fires. An official of the Harriman administration says the need is immediate.

Gov. Harriman said Thursday he had asked the state education commissioner and the state safety director to draw up recommendations.

Daniel Gutman, Harriman's counsel, said administrative and legislative action was needed without delay.

Gutman reported to Harriman on a study the governor ordered Dec. 2, the day after the parochial school fire in Chicago in which 92 persons, mostly children, died.

Gutman said the laws did not provide for coordination of responsibility and action. Jurisdiction is divided, penalties and enforcement powers are inadequate or impractical, he said.

Gutman recommended:

1. Stimulating disaster conditions in the schools at least several times a year.

2. Bringing universities and colleges under laws that require all other schools to conduct fire drills and make regular fire-prevention inspections.

3. Improving procedures for following up reports to make certain that undesirable conditions are corrected.

Gutman said the law on the nature and extent of fire drills was sketchy and requirements for fire prevention instructions were vague.

He pointed out that the safety division had no power to enforce regulations and that the education commissioner's only authority was withholding state aid from districts that did not comply with the law.

Official in Troubled Sector Proposes 49 Changes for PPR

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Carl Noe has ideas for 49 changes in the permanent personal registration law. He came by them the hard way.

Noe is deputy commissioner of the election board in Westchester County, where all was confusion last election day.

There was an apparent postal mixup on cards mailed to check on registrants. Hundreds of persons arrived at the polls and found they had been dropped from the rolls. They stormed to court, seeking orders to allow them to vote. Some lost out in the scramble.

Some other counties using PPR reported similar jumbles. In Rochester two judges set up shop in the courthouse to order eligible voters restored to the rolls.

Must Make Changes

Across the state, PPR is rated generally as a sound system, an Associated Press survey showed. But scores of people who work with it, including Noe, are convinced there are "bugs" that must be eliminated.

Opinion differs widely on PPR. Robert W. Smith, a Monroe County election commissioner, calls it confusing, expensive and inefficient.

A fellow commissioner, Robert W. Northrup, believes that some changes would eliminate the confusion.

Erie County officials, on the other hand, say "it is not the best system. It is the only one."

PPR was authorized in 1954 on an optional, county-wide basis. Since then, 16 counties—including New York City's five—have adopted it.

PPR is not exactly permanent. To stay on the rolls, one must vote at least once every two years. Persons who move from one district to another are dropped unless they re-register. They need not sign up again if they stay in the same district.

Only Two Weeks to Check Much of the checking is done by mail. But the law provides only two weeks for the process. Cards are sent to registrants, and mailmen are told not to forward the cards. If a card is returned, the election board sends a letter notifying the voter his name is being dropped, and that he should re-register in his new neighborhood.

Also, 20 per cent of the voters must be canvassed house-to-house each year.

Noe's Suggestions

Noe suggests beginning the mail checks months earlier. The present type of canvass should be scrapped, he says, and employees sent to determine why check cards were returned.

This, he maintains, would assure that no eligible voter is dropped by mistake.

In Schenectady County, Commissioner Joseph A. Haley recommends more time for the mail check.

Broome and Monroe counties were permitted, under special legislation, to conduct their card check a week earlier than usual this year.

Mrs. Florence Hennessey, senior member of the Broome Election Board, says this made the system work better.

Costs usually rise when PPR first goes into operation. New types of office equipment and more clerks are needed. Then the cost dips, but most PPR counties report it still is above the old system.

In New York City, however, the election-registration operation runs about $1,100,000 a year compared with $1,400,000 annually before PPR. Broome reports the expense is about the same.

Tompkins County's cost went from $14,439 to an estimated $41,000. Some supervisors have complained about the cost.

Apples were brought to America by the early settlers.

Yule Program, Awards Feature Pack 13 Meeting

The monthly meeting of Cub Pack 13, P.T.A. School No. 7, was held Tuesday night at the school. This was the Christmas party of the Pack and was well attended by Cubs and their families and friends. The opening flag ceremonies were conducted by Den Chiefs Michael Angstrom, Ronald Storms, Gary Terwilliger and Cub Scout Robert Myers of Den 1.

Cubmaster Everett F. Schoen welcomed the guests and then introduced Cub Paul Lambiasi who played several Christmas selections on his accordion. Cub Thomas Teegan also played an accordion solo. During the evening Cubs and their guests sang Christmas songs around the lighted Christmas tree accompanied by Mrs. Carolyn Mayle at the piano.

Paper Drive Underway

Prior to the awards, Cubmaster Schoen again reminded the Pack of the importance of saving newspapers and magazines for the fund-raising project. Newspapers and magazines should be tied in separate bundles and left at any time at the home of Herbert Bates, 82 Miller's Lane.

Cubmaster Schoen announced that at the Field Day on December 6, Pack 13 won second place and was awarded a ribbon. Cubs who participated in the Field Day were John Cline, Bruce Giacomia, Paul Lambiasi, James Myers, John Suhrhoff, Thomas Suhrhoff, Thomas Teegan, Wayne Terwilliger and Robert Walker. Mrs. Everett Schoen, Den Mother of Den 5, presented Ronald Storms with his Den Chief cord.

During impressive ceremonies, Robert Myers of Den 1 was graduated into Scouting and during the award ceremonies his parents stood with him. Robert received Cubbing's highest award, the Webelos Badge and was welcomed into Troop 6. First Baptist Church, by Scoutmaster, David Lasher. Den Chief Michael Angstrom presented Robert with his ribbons for three years of Cubbing and he was also given his Boy Scout neckerchief, and slide. Mrs. Giacomia, his Den Mother made a short speech of farewell as he left Cubbing for Scouting.

Cubmaster Schoen then made the following major awards—Lion Badge, Paul Lambiasi; Bear Badge, Bruce Giacomia; Wolf Badge, Thomas Schoen. For these awards parents stood with their boys at the ceremonial table. Other awards were as follows:

Silver arrow on Lion—Robert Myers, Wayne Terwilliger. Silver arrow on Bear—James Myers, Michael Daly. Silver arrow on Wolf—Robert Walker. Gold arrow on Lion—Paul Lambiasi, Christopher Reuner.

Three year Service Star, Robert Myers. Two year Service Star, James Myers; one year Service Star, Mrs. Eugene Giacomia; Denner Stripes, James Myers and assistant Denner Stripes, Paul Lambiasi.

"Cubby," the parents' attendance award was won this month by Den 2. Following the awards, the Cubs distributed to their families the gifts they had made and wrapped during December. The Christmas baskets for needy families donated by Pack 13 were accepted with thanks by Mrs. George Dingee, principal of School No. 7. The meeting closed with the Cubs repeating the "Law of the Pack" and the "Cub Scout Promise." Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting and party.

Next Meeting Jan. 27

Cubmaster Schoen announced that the next committee meeting will be held on Thursday, Jan. 22 at the Schoen home, 301 Lucas Avenue. The next round table will be Monday, January 12 at St. Joseph's School.

The next meeting of Pack 13 will be held Jan. 27 at 7 p. m. at George Washington School.

Dull Days Will End Soon in Washington

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — Until Thursday night's Atlas firing, the past few weeks in Washington have been the dulllest in years.

But come January things will be popping on both the congressional and diplomatic fronts.

In the Senate some Northern Democrats and Republicans will start a fight to make it easier to smash a filibuster. This means a quarrel with Southern Democrats, probably a bitter one.

In the House, Southern Democrats will be in another fight: over a committee recommendation to bar an Arkansas segregationist, Dr. Dale Alford of Little Rock, from taking the seat now held by Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) Alford was elected over Hays by a write-in vote.

GOP in Family Tiff

Senate Republicans will be having a family battle. A batch of Republicans, who consider themselves more progressive than their present Senate leaders, will try to take over.

The political sharpshooting will get off to a running start in early January when President Eisenhower dumps his State of the Union message in the lap of Congress. This message sets forth his program for 1959.

Democrats will be tearing into this all year. Since Eisenhower insists he wants to keep down spending, his program is bound to be fairly conservative. You can hear the Democrats' beef now: the program doesn't go far enough.

Not long after his State of the Union message, Eisenhower will send Congress his budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1. This is his estimate of how much he thinks the government should spend next year. There'll be sparring over that all year.

Yet all this may seem like small potatoes compared with what happens abroad as the new year unfolds.

Much Rest With Krushy

It will be up to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to make good on his promise about Berlin, or back down, or make the Western Allies back down.

He's promised to pull Soviet troops out of East Berlin and warned the Allies to get theirs out of West Berlin before June, or else. He was pretty ugly about the else.

But this week the Allies, meeting in Paris, said: We'll take our chance on else. They announced they'd stand firm on not abandoning Berlin. In this they had the urging and blessing of West Germany.

This could — unless one side or the other gets wobbly knees — turn into a nasty situation. It's up to the Russians now to show how far they are willing to go.

Iraq Smoldering

The Middle East shouldn't be overlooked in any list of things to come. It's moderately quiet now. It never stays quiet long. At the moment the most likely spot for an explosion looks like Iraq.

The revolt there a few months ago overthrew the government, killed the King, badly weakened Iraq's ties with the West. And Communists there seem to be growing ever stronger.

If the Reds should take over in Iraq, the Soviet Union, without firing a shot, will have made the greatest leap in its history into the Middle East.

It's practically wishful thinking to suppose the Red Chinese will stay quiet indefinitely. They're fairly quiet now. But just a few weeks ago they were jittering the world with their bombardment of Quemoy.

Perhaps, meanwhile, the long journey of one man will help spread oil on the troubled international sea. Anastas I. Mikoyan, second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet leadership, is coming to Washington in the months immediately ahead.

The Russians asked this week for permission for him to come here. The State Department approved. The given reason for his expedition — that he wanted to visit the Soviet ambassador here — looks thin.

Mikoyan's real mission may be as Khrushchev's special envoy to Eisenhower.

Visit Too Much

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Clarence Pickens, 81, visited his daughter Thursday in the Otsego County Infirmary.

Up until this month, he alone had been caring for her in the family home in nearby Phoenix Mills. She had been paralyzed for 15 years by multiple sclerosis.

But Thanksgiving Day, the retired farmer fell and suffered a fractured ankle. The daughter was taken to the infirmary, the father to Bassett Hospital.

Ten minutes after the father arrived at her bedside on his first visit, Beatrice Pickens, 39, died of a heart attack. The family said the excitement was too much for her.

The United States consumes about 80 per cent of the world's coffee crop.

Yesterday's hand reminded me of one played by the late Joseph Cohan of Wooster, O., some 25 years back.

His partner, John Law, put Joe in six spades and West was kind enough to double. Joe decided that the double indicated all five trumps and proceeded to make West eat all but one of them.

He started proceedings by cashing all the side suit aces and kings, winding up in dummy. He ruffed a heart small and when West had to follow to that trick Joe was home.

He trumped a diamond in dummy, led a fourth heart and ruffed with the ace of trumps. By this time West was down to his five trumps and had to play one of them on Joe's ace.

Now Joe led another diamond and West chose to ruff with the jack. Joe overtrumped with dummy's king, led dummy's last heart and ruffed with his ten spot.

West won this trick with his queen, but had to let dummy make the last two tricks with the nine and seven.

School Head Dies After Seeing Scuffle

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The principal of a public high school died in his office Thursday minutes after seeing a scuffle between two male teachers and two youths.

Authorities said Abraham Axlerod, 52, principal of Lafayette High, apparently collapsed from a heart attack.

Police said the youths were not students at the school but were loitering and smoking in the building.

The fight started when the teachers tried to get the youths to leave the building. Witnesses said one youth pulled a knife.

The youths broke away from the teachers and shouted abuse at Axlerod after he ordered them to leave, police said.

Shortly after the incident police arrested Roy Howard, 20, and Richard Williams, 18.

Both were charged with loitering and Howard was also charged with possession of a dangerous weapon and third-degree assault.

Hearing Is Set On Legality of Probe in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The presiding justice of the Appellate Division, Fourth Department, will hold a hearing Monday on the legality of the grand jury probing Buffalo's street paving contracts.

Justice Francis D. McGurn will consider a motion to extend a temporary stay of the Erie County grand jury's proceedings.

He granted the stay Wednesday on a motion that the grand jury was not convened legally.

The motion was entered by the lawyer for Raymond F. Brayer, one of the main figures in the investigation.

The stay cancelled the scheduled appearance Thursday of Brayer and five other local contractors before the grand jury.

Monday's hearing will be in Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The Continental Can Co. has given one of its plants here to Syracuse University.

The property is the site of Continental's first plant. The company said the land and two brick and concrete buildings were worth a half million dollars.

The equipment - manufacturing plant has employed about 450. The company said 380 were being laid off gradually and the remainder were being transferred.

Continental's can - making and corrugated-box plants here are not affected.

President Thomas C. Fogarty said the plant was being shut down because technological prog-

STOCK SPLITTING

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock splitting flourishes in a bull market and during periods of increasing business activity when a company needs to raise new money for growth.

It pleases shareholders almost as much as raising the dividend—although in cold reality only the latter does them any mathematical good.

A stock split like the one proposed by directors of American Telephone & Telegraph actually leaves the present stock owner with the same share of equity in the company's assets. Thus, when AT&T stockholders get three new shares for the one they hold today it will mean that each of the new shares is worth in company assets only one-third what the present one is.

But shareholders like splits anyway because usually the price of the company's stock rises on the market.

In bear markets stock splitting dries up because splitting a stock when its price is dropping has little appeal.

So far in 1958 there have been 26 splits or proposals of splits of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, the majority in recent weeks. The same number was set in all of 1957. The year before, a bull market year, there were 56, and 47 in 1955. But in depressed 1954 there were only 13. The biggest postwar year was 1946 with 74.

Reasons for stock splitting are many—some not given by the directors.

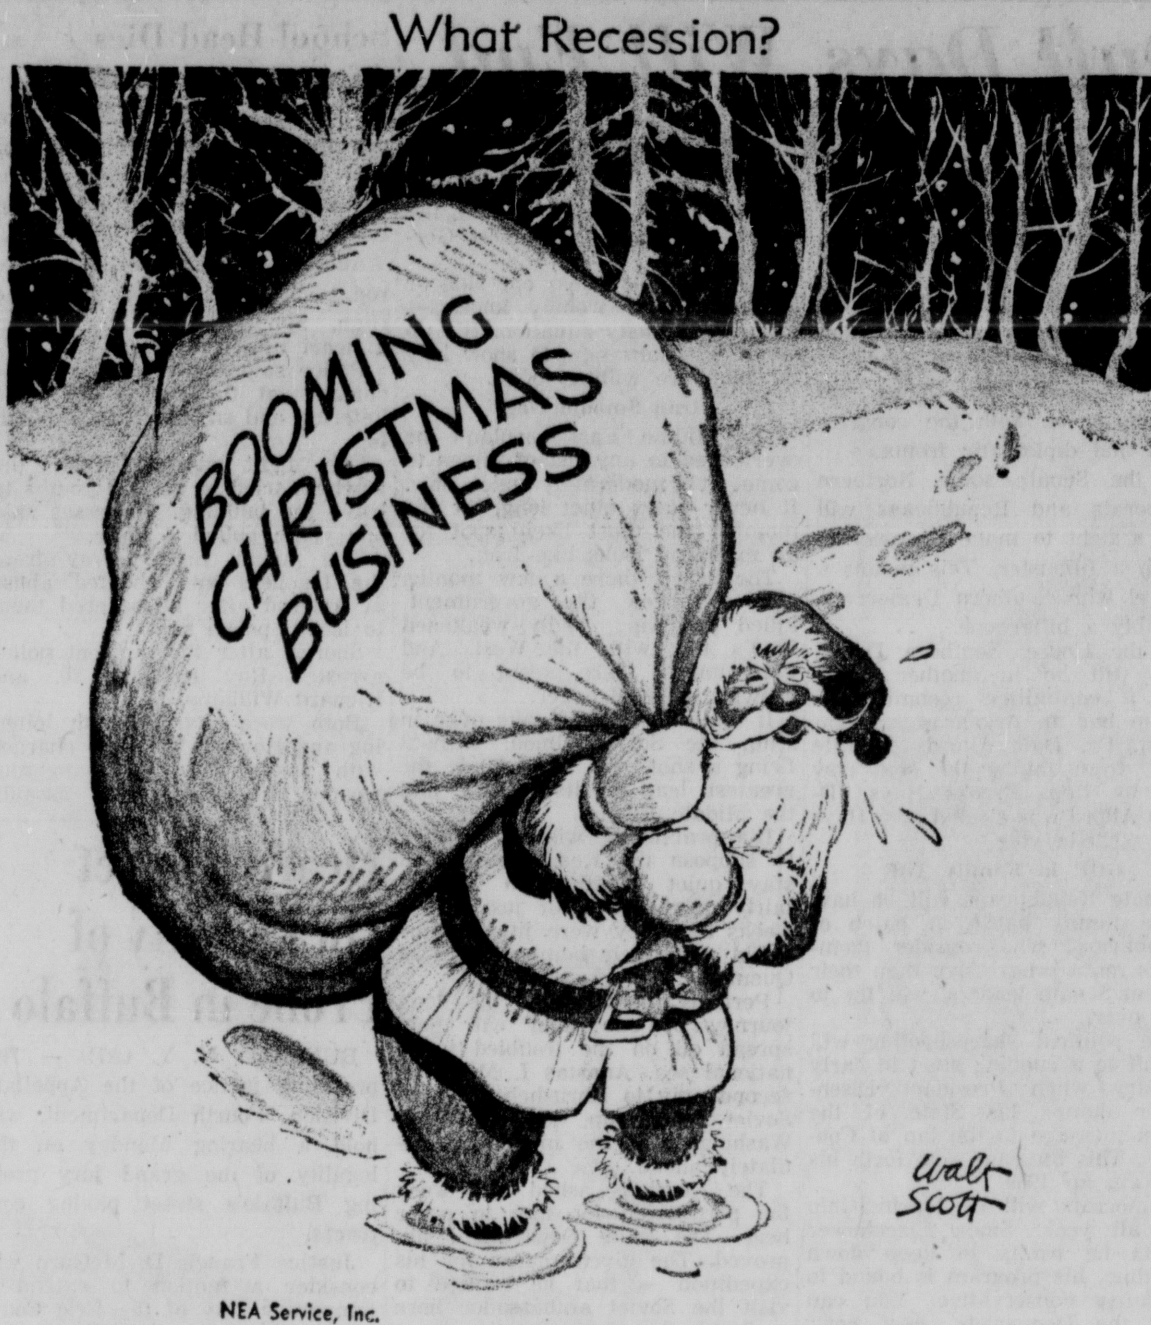

The one usually given is that the lower price will attract more investors and thus widen the market. The lower price also brings any new stock to be issued later within the reach of more buyers, thus helping the company to raise more equity capital as needed.

When stock prices are much higher than the average it makes for thin markets—fewer shares being put up for sale. Prices often fluctuate widely in thin markets. This not only is a hardship for buyers and sellers but it looks bad to the public.

Stock splitting has some side effects that directors may consider but rarely mention.

One is that stock splitting also splits the per share earnings. For example, the phone company last year made $10.61 a share on a 686-million-dollar net profit after taxes. If the shares had been split three for one at that time the per share earnings would have been $3.54.

While the reported profits would be just the same, the lower per share figures are thought to attract less attention from labor leaders as talking points when seeking to get a bigger share of gross earnings for workers at the expense of the share going to stockholders.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Eisenhower, by his own definition, is still a "middle-of-the-roader" whose views have "never had one single change" in nearly 10 years.

He made this rather astounding statement in his last press conference in recalling his speech to the American Bar Association in St. Louis, Sept. 5, 1949. He was then president of Columbia University.

Rereading that speech today does not reveal it as charting a very clear or definite course. He titled it "The Middle Way for America." He declared that "progress is down the center." He said, "To be neutral is not to be wishy-washy."

He rejected the welfare state and a strong central government. He said local governments should provide needed public services. He denied that "Only the government can bring happiness."

MOST OF THE SPEECH dealt with labor-management relations. He said it was not true that what was good for management was bad for labor. Their interests were the same. They should work out voluntary solutions to industrial disputes. They should stay out of the ditches of class warfare.

"I believe that kind of philosophy has always guided me," the President told his last press conference when a reporter asked him about recent press comments that he has taken a sudden turn in a more conservative direction.

"I am not aware of any change whatsoever," the President said. But he added that in Washington—where compromise is the order of the day—he has had to accept a number of things not in accord with his own convictions.

Now this is an interesting self-appraisal, coming at this time. It gives a tip-off, perhaps, on the messages the President will send to Congress in January.

BUFFETED BY CRITICISM from both left and right, the President will apparently try to steer between them.

From the Democratic Advisory Committee, he has just been handed a program far more liberal than anything he is likely to propose himself. The Democrats present this as the result of their "mandate" from the November election. It would cost a minimum 2.5 billion dollars a year more.

It would include a foreign development loan fund increase of a billion dollars, a community facilities bill to cost another billion and a depressed area bill to cost a billion. President Eisenhower rejected the last two this year.

This action, and some of his subsequent declarations on the need for greater government economy have led some observers to contend that the President has turned his back on the policies of modern Republicanism which he advocated after his 1956 renomination and election.

BUT FROM THE EXTREME right wing of his own party, the President is still being criticized as too much of a New Dealer. Part of this is a hangover from last November's election, too.

Die-hard GOP reactionaries—who may have stayed away from the polls in droves—blame the too-liberal policies of the administration for this year's poor Republican showing.

They insist that GOP candidates would have done better if the party had stuck to its 1952 promises of economy, retrenchment and reform—backward. They point to the victory of Sen. Barry Goldwater in Arizona for proof of this contention.

This disregards completely the defeat of the equally conservative Senator William F. Knowland's bid for California's governorship, which would seem to dictate the need for a future Republican policy course somewhat away from the extreme right!

This could be the course President Eisenhower now proposes in reviving his old "middle way."

This brings into the news a topic that has many other controversial aspects as well. The Constitution has only one sentence on the subject. It says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Gambling, of itself, is no more immoral than the practice of law, psychiatry or journalism. The superstitious verboten against gambling, reinforced by statutes and the indomitable hypocrisy of people, except in Nevada, is so childish that, given proper propaganda, gambling might be regenerated, under municipal warrant, within a few years. Intellectually, this would be a fine thing. A people groping in stupidity would dispel by a slight exercise of God-given reason, an error which has adversely affected their knowledge and conduct all their lives.

For many years, and in the same places, prizefighting and horseracing were abhorred on political grounds and prevented by cops and district attorneys. There were, of course, variations and exceptions. In New York, for example, prizefights were suffered to be held on a pretext that the fights were amateur bouts between members of athletic societies attended by members only. Accordingly, all fight promotions came to be known as clubs, as indeed most of them are today. One John Demosthenes Dunne, who operated near the Polo Grounds, invariably ended his benison just before the first affray with a warning to all honest brethren to be careful of their wallets because there were "some very undesirable members present."

The best short fiction story that Richard Harding Davis wrote was set amid the sordidness of a clandestine, illegal prizefight in a barn outside Philadelphia, about 1897. The title is "Gallegher," the name of an office boy who scooped the town in an exploit which is sadly mawkish today. Davis saw nothing amiss in his glancing reference to the fight as a contest between "the champion of the United States and the would-be champion," giving neither names nor weights, but he did unwittingly preserve an atmosphere of illicitness which otherwise might be lost. The crowd included "well-fed, well-groomed clubmen," tickets cost $250 and the announcer, standing on a box in a ring strewn with sawdust, warned all present to be quiet lest they draw cops and get "sent down for a year or two."

Prizefighting then was a criminal pursuit, but solely because some earlier prizefighters in the terribly brutal days before New York had a real organized police force, were bloody-handed thugs and heroes of gangs. Chicago was a tough city with surviving aspects of the frontier when prizefighting was ruled out about 1903 after a fake in which Joe Gans went into the water to

Celebration of Yule During School Hours Is Questioned

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Are the public-school authorities throughout the United States violating the "law of the land" by permitting Christmas celebrations during school hours?

Nine of the highest national organizations of the Jewish Church have just issued a statement declaring that observance of religious festivals of any kind in the public schools violates "the traditional American principle of separation of church and state."

But what is the "law of the land," and does the Constitution really forbid all religious teaching in the public schools? The Supreme Court of the United States took it upon itself in 1948 to say that religious instruction during school hours, with each religion being given equal opportunity to hold its own services in separate sections of the same school buildings, is a violation of the Constitution.

Reverses Ruling

Then the Supreme Court reversed itself in part in 1952 and said it is constitutional to release the children to go to religious classes during school hours provided these are carried on in other than public-school buildings. Under this formula those children who do not want any religion instruction are required to remain in the classrooms. This has been severely criticized as unequal, but it is nevertheless the latest court ruling on the subject.

In New York City, moreover, attempts have been made to introduce into the public schools a joint celebration of Christmas and the Jewish "Festival of Lights," known as "Chanukah," as well as a combined observance of Easter and Passover. But the statement just issued by the Jewish national organizations deplores any such co-operative services as also a violation of "the conscience of many religious persons, Jews and Christians alike. The statement recommends that students be permitted to refrain from any participation in religious holiday observances if they so desire."

Some Parents Right

Parents who demand for their children an education from which all mention of God has been dehydrated are within their rights under the Constitution. But, when government demands that all children conform to this established secular religion of the public schools as a condition for sharing in educational benefits, the children's religious liberty is seriously abridged. This alternative of the dilemma is totally unacceptable to parents of every religious belief who desire a God-centered education for their children.

The topic has a new significance nowadays, since the Supreme Court has become the "Supreme School Board" of the nation and decides cases on sociological and psychological factors as they relate to the education of the child in the public schools. But if the people are to make sure that the problem will be handled as they wish, they will have to seek a constitutional amendment. This would insure them, for example, refunds in taxes or tax credits so they could send their children to private schools that teach religion or to public schools where "released time" during school hours would be granted to children of particular faiths, who would be taught in public-school buildings by their own religious instructors.

It will be noted that the New York City board of education, in its six-point program to combat crime in the schools, says that, in the community's efforts to solve the problem of juvenile delinquency, "there is no substitute for the principles of religion and morality."

LESSON IN STRATEGY

The little flurry over Vice President Nixon's consultations with cabinet members over President Eisenhower's coming state of the union message suggests how touchy the political going may be in the months between now and 1960.

The thing had its comic opera aspects. Mr. Eisenhower and his aides, taking note of the original report of consultations, hastened to point out that these were quite normal and commonplace and that, indeed, in this instance the vice president's views had been eagerly sought.

But Nixon didn't exactly act as if the whole thing were routine. Emerging from a Capitol conference with two cabinet men, he beat a hasty retreat into his office when surprised by newsmen who sniffed out the meeting.

All three came out later to say they'd been going over legislative ideas in a general fashion; in other words, to say that what didn't look very ordinary really was.

Despite all the assurances from the White House on down, the notion persists that Nixon—more than usually—is trying to put some stamp of his own on the administration's program for 1959.

The reason this conviction exists is that it is felt the vice president has no choice but to begin making his own mark if he is to capture the GOP presidential nomination in a year and a half.

His problems are definitely complicated by the competitive presence of Gov.-elect Nelson Rockefeller of New York at the liberal end of the presidential spectrum.

Aware that candidates branded strictly conservative have not fared well in the last several Republican national conventions, Nixon is believed anxious to hold at least some of his liberal identity.

There is some feeling that he has decided to move quickly to assure this result, before an already popular Rockefeller begins to get too broad a grasp on imaginations in the party's liberal wing.

The penalty of delay could be severe for Nixon. He might find himself being pushed in a direction he doesn't want to go.

It makes sense that, as a shrewd politician, he should perhaps choose to "push first."

It's because it does make sense as strategy that quite a few observers in Washington seem so thoroughly persuaded that's what Nixon is up to.

A friend of ours who can't resist seasonal goodies keeps hearing that song as "I'm Dreaming of a Wide Christmas."

IF WE USE FORCE

Firm rejection by the West of Russia's demand that we pull out of West Berlin was of course a foregone conclusion. Still unsettled is how, specifically, we shall meet any possible effort to force us out by blocking our ground routes to the city.

We have said that we will not accept the substitution of East German for Russian control over the access route and the check points 110 miles west of Berlin.

Just as insistently, the Russians say they will hand over this supervision to the East Germans if we refuse to get out and make Berlin a "free city."

If the threatened impasse develops, what then?

The simplest though costliest solution is to go back to the airlift which we used in 1948-49.

There are those, however, who think we should underscore our right by forcing a ground passage if necessary. That means blasting past check points with tanks.

Russian and East German threats that this would mean World War III are not necessarily genuine. But even if the Communists were as determined as we to prevent the spread of any fighting, the operation would not be easy.

All we have a right to hold is the 110-mile thread of highway leading to Berlin. To take and secure this thin pipeline, surrounded 'as it is by hostile East German soil, would mean in effect to establish a 220-mile front. The roadway would be subject to attack and sabotage on both sides at any point along its entire length. All the Reds would have to do to make the route temporarily inoperative, if not worse, would be to blow up a few key bridges.

The point is that the ground alternative is a tough one, calling for what would amount to a military campaign. We can forget the idea that all we would have to do is push past the check points and race "home free" to Berlin.

The war that could develop over access to Berlin might prove a limited one. But it would still be a war, and not a mere tempest at the toll booth.

THE MILITARY STIMULUS

Recent history is peppered with examples of technology being speeded up under the pressure of military demands. Development of aircraft, for example, and electronic communications has probably been much faster than if military needs—and military free-spending—had not been involved. The tragic irony of this does not alter the fact.

The current push for improvement of submarines provides another example. The Soviet Union reportedly has a giant fleet of 500 undersea vessels, and the West is hard at work to meet this challenge. If warfare can be averted, the things now being learned about undersea travel may be of great eventual benefit. The key trick is to win through to that time without the ultimate test of battle.

Ember Day Period
Devoted to Souls
Of Forgotten Dead

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

Just about buried in the multitudinous preparations for Christmas are a set of religious observance days of particular significance to the liturgical churches. They're called Ember Days.

There are 12 of them during the year — the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays following the first Sunday in Lent, Whitsunday, Sept. 14 and Dec. 13. Today is one.

In many churches Ember Days are periods of fast and abstinence marked by special prayers or masses for the souls of the forgotten dead in Purgatory.

Origin Is Lost

The origin of Ember Days has been lost but there is evidence that they were observed as early as the third century.

Some schools of thought feel they began as carryovers from the ancient pagan festivals of the spring planting, the first harvests of grain and the autumn ripening of the grapes.

Others hold that Ember Days started as periods of fast in preparation for Christmas, Easter and Pentecost with a fourth set of three days added in September for the sake of a symmetrical year.

The name may derive from the Anglo-Saxon "ymb-ren," meaning a cycle, or from the Latin "quator Tempora," or four seasons.

The observances are most significant in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. The Eastern churches' fast days do not coincide because of the different calendar.

Priest Explains

The Rev. Francis X. Weisler, S. J., a professor of philosophy and cultural history at Emmanuel College in Boston, in his recently published "Handbook of Christian Feasts and Customs," recounts this haunting medieval legend of Ember Days:

"(It was believed) that many poor souls are allowed to leave Purgatory for a few moments every Emberide, to appear in visible shape to those relatives and friends who fervently pray for the departed ones, in order to thank them and to beg for continued prayerful help for themselves and for those holy souls who have no body on earth to remember them."

TRUMP CARD — DYNAMITE

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said in a speech, "Violence is, after all, the trump card of crooked labor leaders." Senator McClellan stated: "You thugs don't really have much courage. When you don't have the advantage, you simply turn yellow."

Our citizens are more ill-informed concerning the realities of labor's ins and outs than they are on other phases of public interest.

So, in substance, Donald R. Richberg, authority on labor, in his recently published book, said: "Labor union monopoly is a real and present danger." Continuing, to amplify his stand, he stated: "Fifty years ago, the picture of a labor union was a weak, idealistic organization of downtrodden workers struggling against an oppressive concentration of property power was often accurate. Any such picture of an established union today is not merely ridiculous; it is willfully or ignorantly untruthful."

MR. HUTTON

"As a matter of fact, the unions are powerful. They are engaged in a continuing warfare against our free, competitive economy; and, unless stopped, and peaceful competition is substituted for monopolistic coercion of labor relations, it is inevitable that our people will be in a Socialist State."

Socialism means all authority over the people's economy will be controlled by a centralized government.

I repeat, Secretary Mitchell, in his speech, stated, "Violence is, after all, the trump card of crooked labor leaders."

Neighbor, let's make sure it won't happen.

Rifton Man Is Severely Hurt in Car-Truck Crash

Charles Kidd, 67, of Rifton, was severely injured about 8:45 a. m. today when his Ford car and a G.M.C. tractor and trailer owned by Knaust Brothers, Inc., of Catskill, operated by Alfred J. Cripps, 45, of R.D. 1, Old Kings Road, Catskill, collided near Rosendale.

Kidd sustained a laceration of the scalp, depressed skull fracture, laceration of the brain and a broken nose. He was taken by Moylan Ambulance to Kingston Hospital and later transferred to Albany Hospital.

State Police from the Kingston station said that the Knaust rig was proceeding south on Route 32 about 3/10 of a mile from Main Street, Rosendale, and about mid-way down the hill when the Kidd car, which was parked off the highway facing west, backed on the highway "in the path of the truck."

The truck struck the passenger car on the right side with its front end, badly damaging the passenger car.

Kidd was alone in his vehicle. The truck rig was transporting mushroom "flats" to Rosendale at the time of the accident.

The Woodstock Christmas fruit cake sale started in earnest last week with Jaycees and Jaynees receiving the able support of the local Woodstock merchants and teenagers.

The cake sale, which has become a tradition in Woodstock, is an annual fund-raising project to help support the Jaycee and Jaynece Committee activities.

This year, some twenty local store proprietors have offered to help the Jaycees distribute these fruit cakes. Woodstock Christmas shoppers are asked to buy their fruit cakes at the colorful sign, "A Good Cake, A Good Cause."

In addition, the local teenagers who are members of the Wood-Jay-Teens also have offered their help. The detailed plans of their campaign are not yet firm, however. The energy our teenagers normally apply to any problem will be just what the fruit cake sale needs to be a tremendous success.

Essay Contest Ends Saturday

Mrs. Barbara McGrath, chairman of the Christmas Eve program's Essay Contest for school children, reports an encouraging response to the contest the deadline for which is 12 midnight Saturday.

"Letters from the young people of the community are arriving and what a joy it is to read the reasons each child gives for liking Christmas," said Mrs. McGrath. "To each child the service means something different and one is surprised at the amount of thought put into each letter."

Parents are urged to have their children write down a few ideas and send them to Barbara McGrath, Box 518, Woodstock, before the Saturday midnight deadline. The rules to remember are: the subject, "Why I Like Christmas on the Green," written in 50 words or less. The contest is open to residents of the Town of Woodstock who are in the 4-5-6-7-8th grades at school. Two cash prizes will be awarded for each grade.

Judges for the contest are Louise Orser, a Methodist minister and former English teacher at Ontario Central, and two of Woodstock's best known husband-wife artistic combinations, Richard and Eda Crist. They are authors and illustrators of popular children's books. Mrs. Crist is also well known in the dramatics field and served as director of the Recreation Play-ground dramatics group this summer. Mr. Crist is also well known as a painter.

Cashdollar Says

ductive first one for the newly-constituted board, took an interesting turn when Justice of the Peace Dixon McGrath, a Democrat, raised the issue of bids and contracts for road oil used on the township roads.

An explosive issue in some Ulster County communities, the question did not inspire any oratorical turbulence in Woodstock, but Town Superintendent of Highways Albert Cashdollar disclosed several revealing facts under persistent questioning by McGrath, a newly-elected justice of the peace, who was making his first appearance on the board.

In response to McGrath's expressed opinion that the town board should have some jurisdiction over the method and manner of purchasing road oil, since it authorized an appropriation in excess of $78,000 in the budget, Cashdollar replied that the question of lower prices is not all-inclusive and many other factors must be considered in awarding a contract.

The superintendent, who came to the meeting fully armed with statistics in anticipation of possible raising of the issue, first quoted the law from the town manual. It stipulates that the road superintendent is not required to advertise for bids for road surfacing materials where the superintendent and his employees actually do the work which is the case in Woodstock.

Admits Disparity

Cashdollar admitted the disparity between the current price of approximately 18 cents and the so-called "state price" of 11.29 and said that a new contract had not been awarded since state figures were not presently available.

Cashdollar emphasized that among the tangibles connected with the purchase of state oil or from outside the state is the perpetual element of the weather. If the oil is delivered on a day of inclement weather, it must be spread, he said, since the companies will not haul it back. The element of danger of spreading oil on wet pavement or on hills must never be discounted, Cashdollar warned.

Under further questioning by McGrath, the superintendent said the town spends approximately $6,500 annually on road oil.

Not Always Good Bargain

"The disparity in prices of oil does not tell the whole story," said Cashdollar. "I have always had the best interests of the town at heart and have never made a bad deal for the town. I feel, however, that much of the bitterness and misunderstanding about oil prices would be eliminated if the taxpayers knew the whole story. What seems like a good bargain doesn't always turn out that way."

"It is not just a question of prices alone," continued Cashdollar. "There are many other factors and I never award a contract until I have brought the contractors to Woodstock to inspect the whole township, the terrain, the whole layout. All the elements of weather, timeliness, work and other items enter the picture."

Referring to the relationship of the town board and the superintendent of highways, Cashdollar noted that he must file three copies of his estimated budget with the town clerk and copies also go to the county superintendent of highways.

"The town board may change, revise or eliminate some items of my proposals," said Cashdollar, "but once the overall budget is adopted the superintendent has the sole responsibility of determining how purchases for the town are made."

Channel 35 Going To 13 Soon; Will Be Station WAST

An estimated 530,000 television set owners are expected to enjoy added programming when the present Channel 35 (WTRI-UHF) moves over to Channel 13 during the first week in January.

This was the comment today of William A. Rippe, station manager of WTRI of Albany. WTRI is operated by Van Curler Broadcasting Corp.

Effective Jan. 1

Besides shifting channels, the station also will change its call letters, going from WTRI to WAST (Albany-Schenectady-Troy). The call letter change is effective Jan. 1.

Rippe pointed out that the move to Channel 13 will enable WAST to reach an estimated 530,000 television sets, an increase of about 300,000.

Some area video viewers now receive Channel 35 on ultra high frequency and it is reported that the shift to Channel 13 should improve reception in most cases.

Has New Transmitter

The Capital City station has built a new transmitter atop Spruce Mountain in Saratoga County to handle the VHF broadcasts. Studios will remain at 15 North Pearl Street, Menands.

The new Channel 13 will continue to be an affiliate of the American Broadcasting Company.

When Channel 35 moves to Channel 13, Station WKTV in Utica moves over to Channel 2. The Albany area already has two VHF stations, WRGE, Channel 6, the GE station in Schenectady and W-TEN, Channel 10.

St. John Is . . .

The grand jury reported an inspection of the jail had disclosed it to be in good order. The presentment was made by Mrs. Lee Rognan, acting foreman of the grand jury, who presided in the absence of the foreman.

Elsworth Lauds St. John

In releasing the grand jury from further service, Judge Elsworth thanked them for their services and then commented on the two terms of District Attorney Howard C. St. John.

Judge Elsworth stated that this was the final report of a grand jury under St. John who had served two terms as district attorney. He commended St. John for the exemplary conduct of the office and stated that in all of his duties in office St. John had always given full consideration not only to the People of the State of New York, but for each and every individual who may have come in contact with his office. Judge Elsworth said that St. John had followed a long line of distinguished district attorneys and that he has fully "measured up to all of to 30 days in jail for contempt. The grand jury had charged that Ryan had not made satisfactory answers to questions put to him in regard to checks totaling some $12,000 issued by Frank Buckley, deceased, who sold snow removal equipment. Ryan, allegedly admitted he received the checks and had cashed them in Troy, and had returned the cash to Buckley with the exception of perhaps $100 or $200 which he received in the form of a "gratuity."

Calls Answer Vague

The brief states that Ryan had answered the questions in regard to these transactions with Buckley "in some detail" but his answers became "vague, evasive and patently untruthful" when he was questioned in regard to items of his bank account.

In his brief Tompkins, who argued the appeal with Leonard E. Reisman, chief assistant; Joseph F. Soverio Jr., and Robert Orseck, of course, claims that Ryan's charges against Justice Greenberg are "superficial and irrelevant." It is pointed out that Greenberg was appointed directly by Governor Harriman to try the Ulster County cases, and that if Haver really thought the judge was prejudiced he should have applied to the Governor to replace him.

Jail Ryan, He Asks

Tompkins asked the Appellate Division to uphold Judge Greenberg's decision in the Ryan case because Ryan was "wilfully evasive and obstructive before the Grand Jury," and that he tried to plead the Fifth Amendment to certain questions after first answering them in a way that Tompkins said was "vague, evasive and patently untruthful."

The questioning of Ryan was in regard to the Buckley checks and also in connection with facts concerning the Ulster Bituminous Distributors Corporation, a now defunct Ulster County corporation distributing road oil and with which Ryan was associated as a salesman.

Tompkins today said he had "no comment" to make further in the matter, that he had filed his brief Thursday with the Appellate Division as directed by The Court.

He said that Howard C. St. John would take a prominent place among the former district attorneys of the county and he extended to him his congratulations for a job well done.

Maryann Pulverenti Weds Frank Rinaudo At Double Ring Ceremony December 7

MRS. FRANK RINAUDO

Miss Maryann Pulverenti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pulverenti of Port Ewen, wed Frank Rinaudo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rinaudo of Highland at a double ring ceremony held Sunday, Dec. 7 at 3 p. m. at the Presentation Church in Port Ewen.

The Rev. James S. Kelley, CSSR, officiated. James Sweeney was organist and Mrs. James Sweeney was soloist.

For the occasion, the church was decorated with red and white carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white peau de soie gown in princess style fashioned with a Sabrina neckline edged in pointe de Venice lace, long sleeves and a bell shaped skirt. The train of the gown actually stemmed from the back of the neckline to the hemline. Her tiered fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a pearl tiara and she carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias.

The maid of honor, Miss Rosemarie Pulverenti, sister of the bride, wore emerald green peau de soie, designed with a scarf neckline, fitted bodice, trapeze train and large bows at the hemline. She carried carnations.

Also attending the bride were Mrs. Jo Ann Grege, sister of the bridegroom, Henrietta Stellar of Highland, Roseann Nicholson of Poughkeepsie, De Ette Rdel, Poughkeepsie, and Roselyn Fabiano of Kingston. They wore gowns similar to the one worn by the honor attendant, and carried red carnations.

Best man was Thomas Alessandrello of Highland, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Ushers were Louis Greenspan of Kingston, Joseph Pamiella, Salvatore Scartino, Highland, and Frances Rinaudo of New Paltz.

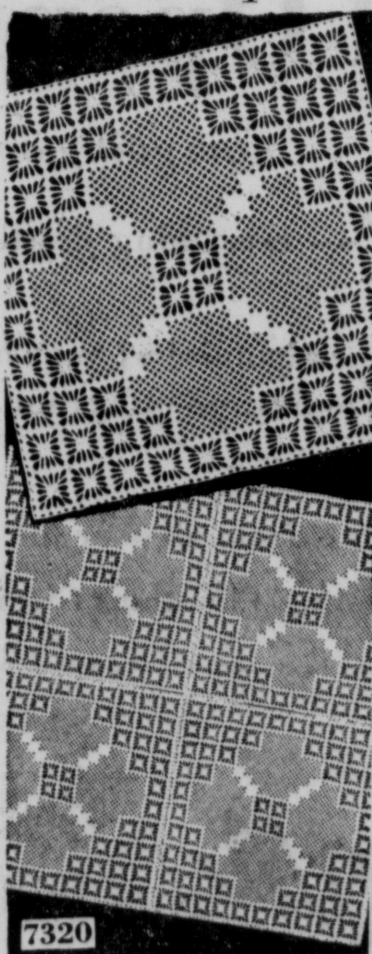

Mother of the bride wore a royal blue silk ensemble with matching accessories. Mother of the bridegroom was attired in a gold lame dress.

A reception was given at the Tropical Inn for more than 300 guests.

The bridegroom is associated in business with his father, proprietor of the Minute Car Wash of Port Ewen, and Automatic Car Wash of Poughkeepsie.

When Mr. and Mrs. Rinaudo return from their wedding trip to New York City, they will make their home in Highland.

The fourth annual Page One Ball, sponsored by the Kingston Newspaper Guild, has been scheduled for Saturday, April 25 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

This announcement was made today by Dick McCarthy, general chairman.

As in the past, members of the Kingston Newspaper Guild will confer Page One Awards upon outstanding persons in the fields of labor, journalism, sports, music and radio-television.

Awards will also be presented to the outstanding man and woman in the community.

"We will also have the pleasure of crowning another Page One Queen," Mr. McCarthy said. "Quest for the new beauty will begin in January of 1959."

Notables Honored

Such notables as Nate Markson of the Albany-Times Union; Ira V. D. Warren, Kingston Ulster Press, and Harry M. Thayer, publisher of the Ellenville Press, have topped the Page One Award in journalism.

In 1958, Mary Margaret McBride accepted the Page One Award in Radio-Television. This coveted prize was given to Seaman Jacobs in 1957, and to Bob Browning and Jerry Marshall in 1956.

Tapped as outstanding in community work in 1958 were Peter Keresman, an active community figure for many years, and Charlotte A. Peck, director of the Cerebral Palsy Center.

Also named Page One Community Award winners were Harry L. Edson of the Kingston Recreational Department; Agnes Scott Smith, teacher at Kingston High School; Katherine M. Murphy, who for many years served as executive secretary of the Ulster County TB and Health Association; and Addison Jones, tireless worker for area polio campaigns.

Labor Awards Given

M. Michael Potokor, who was recently named to the executive board of the newly merged New York State AFL-CIO, received the Page One Labor Award in 1956. Sam Doyle of Middletown topped the award in 1957 and George E. Yerry Jr., president of Carpenters Local Union 1175, received the award in 1958.

Page One Awards have also been presented to: Robert L. Craft, music; Harry Markson, sports; Henry Morton Robinson, literature; Harry Resnick, county award; Henry Mattson, art; Joseph F. Sullivan, typographical; G. Warren Kias, sports; Willard G. Burke, sports.

Reigning as the first Page One Queen was Miss Doris Parslow of the Kingston Freeman business office. Her attendants were Mrs. Betty Saban, Freeman business office; and Miss Joan Woinoski, up-town Freeman office.

In 1957, the contest was thrown open to the entire county. Governor Averell Harriman made a personal appearance during the preliminary judging held that year at the Wiltwyck Country Club. More than 50 girls vied for the crown.

Miss Kathleen Vett of New Paltz was named 1957 Page One Queen.

In 1958, Miss Jacqueline Rethier of Lake Katrine, won the crown. Miss Rethier will crown the new queen at the Page One Ball in 1959.

Bigger and Better

"Each year has seen the steady growth of our Page One Ball," Charles J. Tiano, Guild president told the Freeman today.

"The Page One Ball in April of 1959 will be even bigger and better," he said.

"We will mark our 14th year as a Guild in 1959," Mr. Tiano said, "and we hope that each ensuing year enables the public to become better acquainted with the people who write and process the news, the advertising and handle the business chores of your daily newspaper."

"Through our Page One Awards, we hope to foster greater interest in better journalism, recognize the outstanding men in labor, music, art and sports. And also to emphasize the zealous work of community-spirited personalities," Mr. Tiano said.

Entertainment

The Page One Ball of 1959 will again feature top Broadway acts and a popular dance band, Mr. McCarthy said. Reservations should be early.

SHOULD THEY WAIT TO BE INVITED?

Dear Mrs. Post: Several weeks ago I telephoned a friend of ours and asked if she was going to be home on Sunday as we were thinking of driving over to see them. She said she was very sorry but they had another engagement and would not be home. She did not set another time for us to come. My husband wants to go out and visit them this week, but I refuse to go as I think it is now up to her to call and ask us to visit them. My husband thinks I stand too much on ceremony. What is your opinion?

Answer: I think you are right and that the next move is up to them. Had she really wanted to see you, she would have either mentioned another time when you were talking with her, or she would have called you since to make a date.

A Party for Son and His Plaque

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married in several weeks and it will be a small wedding. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to give a pre-wedding party at my house about a week before the wedding for his many friends who will not be invited to the reception. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded and also what kind of a party would be best to give?

Answer: It would be entirely proper to give a party for your son and his fiancée at any time. It could be a small dance or just a supper, or whatever you can best give in your house. The invitations would read: "Small Dance" (or "Supper") for Mary and John, and the time and day. It may renew their friendship.

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it seem forward of me to send a birthday greeting to a young man I met last summer and who took me out while I visited a cousin, but from whom I haven't heard since? I know it will be his birthday soon, but I don't want to have him think I'm running after him.

Answer: Sending a birthday card is certainly a very proper gesture if its message is impersonal.

Is it good manners to cut a leafy salad with a knife? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-19, "Table Rules of Importance," answers this and many other questions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Christmas Meals

Whether for the tree-trimming party, the Christmas Eve buffet, or the Christmas dinner, food shopping is part of the holiday festivities. Christmas holiday meals are likely among the more elaborate you plan during the year, and so forethought on the food you will need helps you set the state for easy, hospitable meal service.

As you plan the Christmas menu, you may feature traditional foods and at the same time capitalize on foods in season and in abundance. A suggested menu for the dinner follows. It features roast turkey, a meat particularly plentiful this year, and served in seven out of 10 north-eastern homes on Christmas Day. Prices for turkey are currently below the early December average for 1956-57 and are especially attractive for the large-size birds.

Menu: Cranberry-Apple Cocktail; Roast Turkey with Savory Stuffing; Giblet Gravy; Mashed Potatoes; Buttered Broccoli; Crisp Relishes; Holiday Salad; Crescent Rolls; Butter; Preserves; Fruit Cake with Hard Sauce; Coffee, Tea or Milk.

The recipe for the appetizer follows: For the cranberry juice, you may either buy canned juice or prepare your own from the fresh berries.

Cranberry-Apple Cocktail

1 pint cranberry juice, 2½ tablespoons lemon juice, 1 pint apple juice. Combine cranberry, apple, and lemon juice; chill and serve.

The recipe for "Holiday Salad" follows: Canned tomato juice, colorful and in ample supply, is the base for this salad, a low-calorie one. One serving will supply about 75 calories.

Holiday Salad

Pan Size: 10 individual molds or a pan about 12x7x2 inches: 4 cups tomato juice, ½ cup thinly sliced onion, ½ cup diced celery, 1 bay leaf, 4 peppercorns, 1½ teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons gelatin, ½ cup cold water, ½ cup mashed avocado, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 ounces cream cheese.

Combine the first six ingredients in a sauce pan; cover and simmer for 25 minutes. Strain and add the prepared mustard. Soften the gelatin in the cold water; then add it to the hot tomato juice mixture and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Pour the mixture into individual molds or into the pan. Chill until firm.

Combine thoroughly the avocado, lemon juice and cream cheese. Arrange individual servings of the jellied mixture on salad greens on individual plates or on a large platter. Top each serving with a tablespoon of the avocado-cream cheese mixture. Garnish each with a dash of paprika or sliced olives.

Plan Ahead

Since holiday time is a busy time, advance planning of food service may enhance the enjoyment of everyone, including the shopper-cook. Some suggested ways to manage the shopping and cooking for the Christmas holidays follow:

Plan the holiday menus, and convert the menus into a food list before you shop. Consider time-saving food choices. Roasts require little supervision during cooking. Also, many foods lend themselves to day-before preparation. For example, you can prepare molded salads, such as the holiday one suggested, the day before you serve it.

If you make your own stuffing for turkey, mix the bread and seasonings together the day before, leaving only the liquid and other ingredients to add just before stuffing the bird and putting it on to roast.

Profit from "chain cooking" and buy enough meat or poultry for the Christmas dinner to allow for extra servings on later days.

Shop, if you can, when grocery stores are the least crowded. Usually, stores have a pattern of heavy traffic times, and by knowing it, you can plan your trip for unusual hours.

You have a wide choice among seasonal fresh fruits and vegetables for Christmas meals. Among the fruits, consider apples, cranberries, oranges, pears and tangerines. Among the vegetables, consider artichokes, Brussels sprouts, broccoli, cabbage, kale, mushrooms, dry onions, Irish and sweet potatoes, and squash.

Recent Graduate

Howard B. Furman, son of Mrs. Mabel Paters of Continental Road, Napanoch, graduated from recruit training Dec. 13 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. FREEMAN ADS MEAN GOOD BUSINESS

Husband, Attractive to Women, Keeps
Wife on Toes, Says Mrs. Bob Cummings

By DOROTHY ROE

AP Women's Editor

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) —
Pretty Mary Cummings is delighted when girls chase her good-looking husband Bob, star of television and screen, because—
"It helps a wife keep on her toes to know her husband is attractive to other women. A man never should stop appreciating attractive women, just because he is married. Bob likes handsome, vital people and so do I. I wouldn't have it any other way."

Busy at Home

The former Mary Elliott quit the stage when she got married, and has been quite busy since acting as Bob's business manager and raising their family of five children: Robert, 12, Melinda, 10,
Patricia, 7, Laurel, 3 and Tony, 1.
The spacious Cummings home in Feverly Hills is organized for family action. The living room opens into a patio and swimming pool where father Bob gives swimming lessons to all the children, even before they can walk.

YMCA Champ as Boy

"The children start swimming when they are 6 to 9 months old," says Mary. "Their dad is a good swimming coach — he was a YMCA champion swimmer as a boy."Mary had made a considerable reputation as a stage and screen actress when she met Bob Cummings, having played overseas with USO Camp Shows during World War II and played the title role in "My Sister Eileen." They were married in 1945 and Mary decided firmly and at once to make her sole career that of wife and mother. Says she:

One Star Enough

"I'm positive I couldn't be happy as a star, and be married at the same time. My best acting offers have been since my marriage, but I don't think any family is big enough for two stars."After a long and successful career in both Broadway and Hollywood productions, Bob Cummings has had his own weekly show on television for five years. Mary takes care of business details and often helps pick promising young actresses for the cast. She has an office in her home, and puts in a regular 40-hour week being a business manager, running home and family at the same time.Prospective Bride

Rockefeller Picks Wickham As Head of Agriculture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller today designated Don J. Wickham of Hecor, for appointment as Commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

Wickham, 55, will receive a salary of $20,000 a year. The department administers the state Agriculture and Markets law.

Rockefeller said Wickham "will make a valuable contribution to the administration's major goal of improving the economic climate of the state."

The governor-elect said he had promised to appoint a commissioner who knew the farmers' problems and who would fight in their interests. Wickham, a life-long resident of Hecor, "is superbly fitted" for this effort and this role, Rockefeller added.

The department includes the divisions of animal industry, food control, markets, milk control, plant industry and state fair.

Wickham is president of the Farm Bureau Assn., a voluntary farmers' organization devoted to the advancement of agriculture.

He also is a member of the board of directors and secretary of the Farm Family Life Insurance Co. of Albany, a director of the New York Telephone Co., a director of the American Farm Bureau Assn., and a member of the advisory committee of the Elmira branch of the Marine Midland Trust Co. of Southern New York.

Wickham said he intends to sever his Farm Bureau and business connections on entering state service.

Wickham was educated in the Hecor school system, at Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima and at Cornell University.

He has specialized in dairy, poultry and fruit production and, in more recent years, has farmed more than 100 acres of cherries, peaches and grapes.

Wickham also operates a wholesale petroleum distributing business for farmers as well as a general store.

Former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey appointed Wickham to the Temporary Highway Finance Planning Commission, of which Wickham is still a member.

In 1954, Dewey appointed him to a five-year term as a trustee of the State University of New York.

Wickham was president of the Finger Lakes Fruit Products Cooperative of Watkins Glen from 1950 until 1956, when it merged with the National Grape Growers Cooperative of Westfield.

From 1956 to 1943, he was deputy administrator for New York in the Agriculture Adjustment Administration of the Department of Agriculture, with headquarters at Ithaca.

He is married to the former Florence Miner of Batavia. They have two sons, William, 30, and David, 28, both of Hecor, and a daughter, Mrs. John H. Hoare Jr., a teacher of home economics at Corning.

A car operated by Milton Finch of 46 Chambers Street, left the road near the junction of Glasco Turnpike and Route 9W about 4:45 p. m. Thursday and struck a tree.

Finch was taken to Kingston Hospital where today his condition was reported as "fair." State Trooper Vantriglia, who investigated, reported the car was being operated over Glasco Turnpike and entering Route 9W near the Schoenag Inn. Cause of the accident was not determined since it was impossible to question Finch, state police reported.

Bulganin Grovels

of the antiparty five is known to have met a fate worse than banishment to a small-try job in the provinces.

Former Premier Georgi Malenkov was last reported running a power station, former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was serving as ambassador to Outer Mongolia, former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov was teaching school and an onetime economic boss Lazar Kaganovich was running a factory.

Once Prominent Voice
Bulganin came out of semiretirement in southern Russia to speak again in the committee where once he was a prominent voice. As premier from 1955 until last March, while party boss Khrushchev actually ran the country, Bulganin's stout, goateed figure became world famous.

He traveled to India, Britain and other countries with Khrushchev. He posed for pictures with President Eisenhower in Geneva in 1955 and signed numerous letters to the White House.

But, Bulganin said Thursday, "when in 1957 the antiparty activities of (the other four) actively developed, I joined them." As premier, he added, "I not only became their accomplice but also nominally their leader."

Holds Off Showdown
Always a shrewd politician with an eye to his own and other people's intrigue, Khrushchev held off a showdown with the group in June 1957 until he could bring up enough party supporters to outvote and exile them. Bulganin then turned coat and ended up backing the winner, but he himself lasted only a few months longer.

He plunged from premier to director of the state bank to head of a regional economic council at Stavropol, a post he indicated he still held.

Lagattuta Subpoenaed
In another development, Sam Lagattuta, an Apalachin delegate who turned up Wednesday after missing for a year, has been served with new subpoenas.

Lagattuta was released from jail Thursday on a $5,000 bond but not until he was served with a subpoena from the Investigation Commission and the U. S. Senate Rackets Committee.

The Internal Revenue Service says it wants to question him because there is no record he filed income tax returns for the years 1954-56.

U. S. Atty. John O. Henderson says the 59-year-old Lagattuta will also be subpoenaed by a Federal grand jury here.

Lagattuta, variously described as a housepainter and a bodyguard was arrested on a vagrancy charge. He pleaded innocent.

Salan Leaves Algiers
ALGIERS (AP) — Gen. Raoul Salan, departing for Paris and a new post, today was besieged by 500 right-wing French war veterans shouting, "Stay with us, general, the civilians will betray us."

A group of bemedaled generals, aided by police, finally managed to lead Salan to his car.

Salan, the military commander in Algeria, took over control of the civil administration when right-wing colonists and officers rebelled last May against the Paris government. Premier de Gaulle is making him inspector general of national defense.

Short of Boxes
COVINGTON Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Louise Nickols reported to police that someone entered her home, dumped presents from gift boxes and then made off with just the empty containers.

Giant Satellite

made object swinging around the globe. Its weight, between 8,700 and 8,800 pounds, neatly doubles the 2,919 pounds of Soviet Sputnik III, fired last May 15.

Sputnik III's rocket, variously estimated to weigh between two and five tons, trailed it until being burned up by air friction Dec. 2.

The Atlas' orbit girdles the earth every 100 minutes at altitudes varying between 118 to 625 miles.

Glow Like Star
Most Americans can see it, glowing like a star, especially at dusk and in the South. Its estimated life aloft is 20 days.

Radio signals for tracking purposes are coming from the giant artificial moon on two frequencies, 107.97 megacycles and 107.94 megacycles.

Moonwatchers at El Paso, Tex., were first to report spotting it visually. They reported at 9:30 p. m. that it glowed at 1½ magnitude, just a bit brighter than the stars in the Milky Way.

The Air Force dubbed its satellite Operation Secrecy, after the first letters of the words signal, communications, orbit, relay experiment. These summed up its purposes except for the basic one.

This was to see if the Atlas would fly as faithfully as it did two weeks ago, when it traveled a prescribed 6,325-mile course over the Atlantic.

Good Answer to Krushy
Of Thursday night's test, the Pentagon said: "Most successful." But it did much more, as the Pentagon pointed out in a statement: "The entire vehicle achieved an orbit. As such, it is the largest satellite that has been put into orbit by the United States."

More importantly, this marks the first time that a high accuracy missile guidance system has been used to steer such a vehicle into its orbital trajectory.

Thus, in a matter of minutes, the United States proved once more that it has a dependable ICBM and also took the wind out of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's taunt about "lemon-size" U. S. satellites.

There was a novel twist to the launching which sent the Atlas soaring at 17,000 miles an hour. In its nose cone was a unique communications system—and there was speculation that its tape recordings included the voice of Eisenhower.

Newsman expressed this speculation to Pentagon officials, who would neither confirm nor deny it. The communications system is part of the 150-pound payload in the rocket's nose cone. It records messages sent to it and, on a command signal later, sends the messages back to earth.

100 Tons at Start
The Atlas weighed 100 tons on the ground. The combined thrust of its three rocket engines at sea level was 359,000 pounds. Once fired, its two booster engines dropped off and what was left, the instrumented carcass and burned-out third engine, went into orbit. Powered flight lasted 4½ minutes.

Scientific, Arms
Army tried rockets that soared a third of the way to the moon. An Atlas zoomed on course for 6,325 miles across the Atlantic.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said the Russians had a missile capable of going 8,700 miles. U. S. officials underscored the word "capable," discounting Communist possession of any such operational weapon for at least two years.

American authorities deny Thursday night's launching was a propaganda move. They said it would carry out important communications experiments.

Atlas is big enough to be seen with the naked eye by the millions in the heavily populated areas of the earth over which it was aimed. And its tape recording playbacks are highly convenient for worldwide rebroadcasting by the Voice of America.

The circulation of books at the library in the New high school building is greater this year than in previous years according to a report by the librarian, Mrs. Dorothy E. Lowe.

She reports that the circulation is approximately 100 more books each day than for the corresponding month of the previous year.

One reason is that the 7th graders are using the library more than previously. Another reason is that pupils are using the library during the extra help period which follows the formal closing hour of the afternoon session.

Cheer Rally This Week Opens New School Gym

The new gym at the high school was put into use this week for the first time. A cheer rally was held with all high school pupils present.

Seventeen cheer leaders under the direction of Miss Virginia

Reime, teacher of physical education, directed the rally.

The varsity basketball team, in uniform were on the court and shot a few baskets. It was noteworthy to observe that the first six shots taken at a basket in the new Saugerties High School gym by members of the local team sank through the hoop.

The rally was in preparation for the initial local game of the year which is with Hyde Park (Roosevelt High School) Saturday evening. The junior varsity game begins at 7 o'clock.

The operators of the buses in the Saugerties Central School District will provide transportation to the non-resident high school pupils for this game provided as many as 30 per cent of the group plan to attend and ride on the bus.

Varsity cheerleaders include Moira Altevogt, Judith Kaminski, Theo Haley, Arlene Krom, Carolyn Halpert, Daryl Hargrave, Eileen Cahill, Denise Rethier, Jill Lezette and Nancy Quackenbush.

The JV cheerleaders squad consists of Susan Schirmer, Karen Fous, Pamela Hargrave, Joan Faulkner, Judy Leszko, Karen Jacobs, Dona Doud and Linda Ianone.

Regents Diplomas Ready

Regents Diplomas earned by the Saugerties High School graduating class of 1958 are available in the administration building on Hill Street.

Over 10 Feet of Snow In Erie Snow Belt

MAYVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—The fact that winter is still three days away is a hollow bit of intelligence in this part of the state.

The communities along a 25-mile ride in the Lake Erie snow-belt have already been plastered with over 10 feet of snow.

Most of the pre-winter fall has come from local squalls brewed over Lake Erie. Air moving across the lake picks up moisture, hits the ridge, rises, cools and drops snow.

About six more inches fell Thursday, bringing the total fall measured by the Chautauque County Highway Department to over 120 inches.

With thawing and settling, about three feet of snow is still on the ground.

Communities in the ridge area are Sherman, Sinclairville, Casadaga and Mayville, the county seat.

Christmas for 18

one mornin' pancakes, one mornin' grits and eggs."

Mrs. Smith, who used to live in Atlanta, whips up biscuits for breakfast and corn bread for the evening meal.

"At supper I feed 'em in shifts," she said. "First the babies, then the school kids, then the grownups. We can eat in peace that way."

How about living space? The Smiths have been living in a six-room basement flat in an old frame house. They have just rented the eight rooms on the first floor to give them a total of 14.

"The rent for the two flats is $120 a month," said Herman Smith, 32, who makes $60 a week as a gasoline station attendant.

"It takes $50 to $75 a week for groceries."

Illness Keeps Him Idle

The bulk of the double family's income is $414 a month for aid to dependent children. It goes to the widower, Alonzo Williams, who lives with the Smiths. He isn't working because of a chronic stomach ailment.

Mrs. Smith, who shows a fondness for such newfangled styles as turtleneck sweaters while displaying the dauntless spirit of pioneer womenfolk, is determined to keep all the kids together.

"I got love for my brothers and sisters and I can't see 'em livin' anywhere else," she said.

TV Networks Will Devote Most of Week to Christmas

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Just about everything on the television networks in the coming week—with a few exceptions—will be concerned with Christmas. For example:

Saturday night—NBC-TV, Cimarron City presents a Western version of Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol," starring George Montgomery, Audrey Totter, John Smith.

Sunday—NBC-TV, Omnibus stars Gene Kelly in his television debut with "Dancing—A Man's Game."

CBS-TV, a half-hour program of Christmas music by the Salt Lake City Tabernacle Choir.

NBC-TV, Shirley Temple's Storybook offers "Mother Goose," with Miss Temple, her three children, Elsa Lanchester, Billy Gilbert and Carleton Carpenter.

Monday night—NBC-TV, The Goodyear Theater offers "Curtain Call," starring Jackie Cooper in a half-hour drama about a child star trying to make a go as an adult actor against the enmity of a critic.

Tuesday night—ABC-TV, Naked City strikes an ironic note on the holiday with "And a Merry Christmas to the Force on Patrol."

Wednesday night—CBS-TV, Pursuit presents "The Silent Night," a one-hour filmed drama starring Lew Ayres, Patricia Neal, Victor Jory.

CBS-TV, Armstrong Circle Theater abandons its usual format to offer live from New York dramatic readings and narrations by Victor Jory and special Christmas music.

Both CBS-TV and NBC-TV will present a variety of religious services and music in the late hours of Christmas Eve and early hours of Christmas morning.

Thursday night—CBS-TV, Playhouse 90 presents the celebrated Christmas ballet, "The Nutcracker" by Tchaikovsky.

Teenage Caravan For Polio Set For County Area

Plans were formulated for a county teenage caravan in behalf of the March of Dimes at a recent meeting held in the YMCA and another is scheduled Dec. 22.

The meeting was attended by Frank Rebollo, youth director of the YMCA and director of the Hi Y Clubs; Frank Koenig, chairman of the teenage caravan of the Ulster County Chapter of the National Foundation, and Lewis Kirschner, co-chairmen.

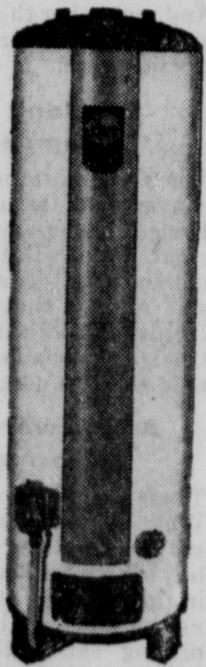

It was noted that in 1958 the Hi Y sponsored a "mile of dimes" drive for the polio campaign which encompassed only the city of Kingston. The drive received the award for the individual teenage organization which collected the most money for polio in the state.

On the basis of that successful effort, it was decided that the 1959 program should be expanded and an attempt made to cover as many communities in Ulster County as possible.

Committees were appointed and a tentative schedule was announced for January. Koenig noted that teenagers have been recognized as a strong unit in the collection of polio funds throughout the country.

The planning committee will hold its Dec. 22 meeting at Rebollo's home at 7:30 p. m.

ULSTER PARK, N. Y.

A colorfully decorated entrance to your home sets the tempo for gay Christmas time gatherings inside. Decorations can be simple or elaborate but those that are exclusively yours are the ones you make yourself.

In the picture above, Santa has hung up his shiny black boots and deposited some brightly wrapped packages by the door as a seasonal greeting to passersby and guests. Vinyl fabrics are used for the decorations because of their clear colors and the ease with which they shrug off rain, snow or sleet.

To make the boots, cut two 18-inch squares from shiny black, red or white vinyl fabric. Cut two triangles measuring 7 x 4 x 7 inches for the boot soles. Fold squares in half and cut a boot shape, free hand or make a paper pattern to follow.

Tape the front edges together with black plastic tape. Fit sole in place and tape. Decorate the front with bands of gold tape and criss-cross strips of red plastic tape to simulate laces, ending at each point with a double strip to act as a tassel. Hang on the door and fill with Christmas greens.

Using cardboard cartons, make giant-sized Christmas packages by covering with bright colored, unsupported vinyl fabric and decorate with plastic tape.

A rope of greens, trimmed with outdoor ornaments and lights, is hung to outline the doorway and "frame" the setting. If Nature doesn't oblige with a "white Christmas," create your own snowy effects with artificial snow sprayed from a push-button can.

To Study Raising Of Speed Limits On Expressway

ALBANY—The State Traffic Commission has authorized its engineering staff under Lloyd Maeder, director, to initiate studies looking toward possible establishment of over-50 MPH zones on new super highways in various parts of the state. Governor Harriman had recommended the studies.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelley, chairman of the Traffic Commission, disclosed today that the commission unanimously approved a resolution calling for the studies.

The traffic commission long has had the legal authority to establish speed zones on state highways in excess of the statutory limit of 50 MPH, but has never exercised the authority.

Commissioner Kelly emphasized that the commission's directive provides merely for studies to determine the desirability and feasibility of over-50 speed zones on controlled-access divided highways of the expressway type.

The New York State Thruway has a 60 MPH speed limit for vehicles other than trucks.

While the traffic commission's directive did not specify a maximum speed which might be authorized, depending on the outcome of the studies, Commissioner Kelly indicated that the maximum for any such over-50 zone would probably be 60 MPH as on the Thruway. This he said, was the present thinking of the commission.

Maeder said no decision had been made as to which highways would first be subjected to studies in accordance with the commission's directive, but that divided highways on the Interstate Highway System would certainly receive early attention in the survey. Among those to be treated in the studies are the completed sections of the Empire Stateway and the Northway, Route 17 running westward from the Thruway, and the Long Island Expressway.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Dr. Robert H. Wilkins of Boston, president of the American Heart Association, predicts that "in ten years or so" the life expectancy of Americans will be 90 years.

If Dr. Wilkins is correct in his forecast, by 1968 we shall have added about 20 years to life expectancy. That should augur well for business over the longer term, but it will mean headaches too. At present our people are collecting nearly $20,000,000,000 annually in old-age insurance payments, unemployment compensation, veterans' pensions and disability pay, railroad retirement pensions, federal, state, and local civil-service pensions, and other government programs.

I am told that the total stake of our people in public and private pension systems of all types amounts to $80,000,000,000. Investments in private pension plans alone amount to more than $35,000,000,000 and represent 18 per cent of our entire savings. I forecast that the total investments in all types of public and private pension plans will have jumped to $165,000,000,000 by 1978, thus assuring steady purchasing power for the pensioners and the disabled.

Effect on Insurance

The life insurance companies have enjoyed continuous improvement in mortality rates for many years now, owing largely to advances in medicine and nutrition as well as to shortening of the work week. Most companies have found their actual mortality experience more favorable than that anticipated in the calculations upon which their premiums were based. Also the life companies have had the advantage of vastly increased investment earnings because of large gains in premium income and the sharp upturn in general business since World War II.

I believe life insurance companies stand to make further spectacular gains as life expectancy is bettered. Those insured by mutual companies should see dividends are boosted. Those insured by stock companies should benefit from lower premium rates or increases in coverage at little or no increase from present rates. Longer life expectancy cannot help but enhance the fortunes of the stock companies, of which Aetna and Travelers are the largest.

As longevity increases, the period between retirement age and death will widen. This will mean additional problems for government and business. Sharp increases in taxes levied upon employers and employees for social security lie ahead. Boosts in contributions of management and employees to private pension plans will be equally stiff.

In addition, I predict that federal, state, and local taxes generally will move to new high levels. Some of this increase will be due to higher operating costs. A sizable portion will be due to the need for more facilities and services for the growing sector of our population above the age of 65.

New Boost for Labor

Since I anticipate another marked increase in births in this country, beginning probably about 1965 and continuing for several years, by 1978 we could well have, in a population of 225,000,000, 25,000,000 aged 65 or over and about 75,000,000 under 18. That means we will have fewer workers to support more people than at any other time in our history. Labor will once again be in the saddle, riding high, wide and handsome. Chemists, physicists, engineers, and other skilled specialists will be in heavy demand.

There is only one method by which business can counteract the disastrous impact of this expected scarcity of manpower. It must make a greater and more effective use of the techniques of automation. Otherwise, there will not be sufficient assurance of earnings to attract needed capital for expansion and for replacement of outmoded plant and equipment. Perhaps the biggest single problem facing management over the next 20 years is manpower and the cost of that manpower. Automation is the only answer I can see. I predict that companies making machines or other equipment designed to cut labor costs will have an unusually bright future.

Maroon Routs Ellenville, 89 - 51, For Fourth Straight Win

J. Uhl Sinks 28 Points; Williams, Short Hit 14

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Though the regulars saw action for only a little better than a half, Kingston High School cagers roared to their fourth consecutive triumph last night at the Kate Walton field house, an overwhelming 89-51 decision over an inept Ellenville club. The win sends the Maroon cagers into the holiday recess as one of three unbeaten clubs in the DUSO League. Newburgh and Monticello are the other two teams in the circuit without a setback.

The visitors came with a name player, Ben Davis, and a host of others to make up a roster. Davis had 23 points but did not look as overpowered as his press clippings. In fact, he was out-rebounded all evening long by the smaller Kingston defenders and only had seven baskets, four of them coming on easy tap-ins.

Kingston again featured a four-man offense and Joe Uhl, the sensational sophomore showed the way. He had a phenomenal night from the floor, sinking 10 baskets in only 12 shots. He also had eight free throws for 28 points. To make the night that much better, Uhl only played the first half, two minutes of the third period and two minutes of the fourth quarter. He was simply great.

The two backcourt aces, Charley Williams and Bob Short contributed 14 points each and co-captain John Kelly added 10. Hobbie Armstrong did a bang-up job on defense until he fouled out and added five points to the total.

KHS had a 5-0 margin after only two minutes of play as Kelly clicked with a jump shot. Uhl canned a foul and Williams hit with a jump from the center. Fouls by Kelly and Uhl made it 7-0 before Marty Kosofsky hit with a layup for the Ellies with more than four minutes gone in the first period.

Four-Point Spread

Ellenville came within four points, 9-5, at the six minute mark of the first quarter, but a jump shot by Kelly and a three point play by Uhl hiked the margin to 14-5 with 1:30 left in the quarter. It was easy sailing from then on.

The entire first five got into the act in the second period and some nifty ball handling and pass work boosted the score. It was 25-9 at the two minute mark of the second quarter and with only 3:20 left to play before halftime, Kingston had a 38-17 lead. Uhl and Short were the big guns in the second period surge. Joe had four baskets in as many shots and Short had three buckets and three foul shots.

Coach John Gilligan pulled Uhl and Kelly out of the contest early in the third period and at the end of the quarter, the entire starting team was on the sidelines. Armstrong had fouled out earlier and the other four entered the contest briefly in the closing moments.

Davis, the only bright spot for the Ellies, committed his fifth personal foul with 3:45 left to play in the game. With him in the game, Ellenville didn't look too bad. Without Davis, the club was pitiful.

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Top weight of 132 pounds has been given Round Table, "Horse of the Year" for 1958, for the $145,000 guaranteed Santa Anita Handicap, Feb. 28.

Racing Secretary Jimmy Kilroe assessed Maine Chance Farm's Jewel's Reward second high at 119.

Round Table's 132 is the highest weight assigned in the Santa Anita Handicap since Calumet's Citation finished second with that impost to Noor in 1950.

Round Table won the race last winter with 130 and set a Santa Anita track record of 1:59.45 for the mile and one-quarter.

Reese Is Named Dodger Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After a brilliant 16-year career, Pee Wee Reese is retiring as a shortstop to become a coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Vice President Buzzie Bavasi said Reese could have continued as an active baseball player on another club but that he preferred to be a coach with the Dodgers rather than change uniforms.

Reese starred in seven World Series and played in eight All Star games after replacing another great Brooklyn shortstop, Leo Durocher, in 1940.

Riley Hits 39 for NFA

LeRoy Riley set a scoring record at the Newburgh Free Academy gym last night as the unbeaten Goldbacks registered their fourth win, 76-40, at the expense of hapless Fallsburgh. Riley, the high scoring center, had 39 points, or only one less than the entire Fallsburgh team was able to muster.

Coach George Masterson's cagers broke away to a 16-2 first period lead and then coasted the rest of the way. It was 28-17 at halftime and 53-26 after three quarters.

Riley hit from all angles of the court and had 17 field goals and five foul throws for his 39 points. Jack Coonan added 16 and Vince DeCervo hit for 10. Al Carmesi and John Kunis had 10 points each for the Comets, who dropped their fourth straight league encounter.

Holiday Bowl For Small Title

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A pair of unbeaten teams with high-powered offenses battle for the national small college football championship Saturday before a Holiday Bowl crowd of some 10,000 persons and national television audience.

Both Arizona State of Flagstaff and Northeastern Oklahoma State are expected to put on a wide-open show that could rival the excitement of last year's Holiday Bowl clash in which Pittsburg (Kan.) State nipped Hillsdale (Mich.) College 27-26.

Each team has averaged better than four touchdowns a game this season in rolling over all opposition. In winning 11 games and stretching their unbeaten streak to 14, the Arizona Lumberjacks have outscored their opponents an average of 28-7. The Redmen from Oklahoma have nearly an identical record, outscoring 10 foes an average of 28-8.

The two teams won Dec. 6 playoff games to qualify for the Holiday Bowl, which the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics bills as its championship game. The Redmen, ranked No. 1 in the NAIA ratings, stopped St. Benedict's of Kansas 19-14, and the Arizonans, No. 2, blasted Gustavus Adolphus of Minnesota 41-12.

CBS will telecast at 2 p.m., EST.

Lakers Aid Baylor And Gain Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Assn. found a shortcut to success Thursday night: Give rookie Elgin Baylor some scoring help and come out a winner.

That is what the Lakers did and they wound up beating the Detroit Pistons 113-104. The Boston Celtics moved to a 1½ game lead in the NBA's Eastern Division over the idle New York Knicks with a 104-90 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in the other scheduled game.

For most of the season, Baylor, in his rookie year after an All-America season at Seattle University last year, has carried the Lakers' fortunes. He has scored 637 points in 26 games.

Baylor hit for 26 Thursday night, but got help from six other teammates who also scored in double figures. Baylor and Rod Hundley sparked a scoring drive in the final four minutes that minimized George Yardley's 27 points and Phil Jordan's 24, which topped Detroit.

MATTHEWS ELECTED — S. James Matthews, left, of Kingston has been elected vice-chairman of the New York State Fish and Wildlife Management Board. Other officials, from the left: Leo A. Lawrence, assemblyman from Herkimer County, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Revision of the Conservation Law that prepared the Fish and Wildlife Management Act; Dr. A. B. Hatch, Peterboro, N. Y., chairman of the board and former Conservation Commissioner of the State of Idaho; Dr. E. L. Cheatum, Albany, Chief of the Bureau of Game, N.Y.S. Conservation Department and secretary of the board; and Sharon Mauchs, Cobleskill, State Conservation Commissioner.

Matthews New Vice-Chairman State Board for Wildlife Act

Attorney S. James Matthews has been elected vice-chairman of the 12-member state board of New York State's Fish and Wildlife Management Act, it was announced today.

Matthews, delegate from District 11, attended the first meeting of the board held at the State Campus Site, Albany. Dr. A. B. Hatch, District 2 delegate (Madison County), was named chairman.

Other delegates who attended the meeting with Matthews—also a director of the New York State Conservation Council—include George Cobb, Catskill, District 1 (Delaware, Schoharie, Greene, Rensselaer and Columbia Counties) and Edridge Lasher, Germantown, District 13 (Columbia, Dutchess, Putnam and Westchester Counties).

Steadily mounting hunting and fishing pressure on private lands has made it imperative that steps be taken to protect the landowner and increase recreational hunting and fishing opportunities on private lands. The Fish and Wildlife Management Act is designed to accomplish this end.

The Act clearly defines the responsibility of the Conservation Department to manage the fish and wildlife resources of the state and provides machinery enabling the district board and Conservation Department to enter into cooperative agreements with individual landowners for management of fish and wildlife on private lands.

Enforcement Aid

One of the most important services offered to cooperating landowners will be increased law enforcement protection. The Conservation Department also will supply labor and material for carrying out approved district fish and game programs.

District boards are composed of a resident landowner, sportsmen and member of the county board of supervisors from each county in the district.

District 11 officers include Raymond Hayes, sportsman, Rockland County, chairman J. R. Lauffer, landowner, Orange County; Vice-Chairman Matthews, sportsman, Ulster County, delegate to state board, C. R. Stark, landowner, Rockland County, alternate delegate to state board; John D. Gould, conservation department representative to District 11, secretary.

The state board will act on fish and wildlife plans, programs or practices formulated and submitted to the group by district boards. These will be referred to the conservation commissioner who is empowered to approve or veto the programs.

Armstead was high point getter for the Monties with 17 points. Stratton had 14 and Al Schneider made 11 for Coach Bucky Roche's cagers. Dick DePew topped the Pioneers with 23 but his high scoring brother, Bob, was held to four markers.

Emphasis on Defense Keeps Grid Scoring at Low Level

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football in 1957 experienced its lowest scoring season in a decade. National Collegiate Athletic Assn. statistics for the 1958 season, still incomplete, indicate that the over-all average was just about the same, as it was a year ago. Possibly there was a very slight drop.

The reason? Coaches have been devoting more time to defense than they did a few years ago; they have taught defenders to outmaneuver the blockers and the results naturally are good.

That's the consensus of nearly 200 press box experts replying to the Associated Press post-season football questionnaire.

Even though the principal trend noted this year by the same sports writers and broadcasters was a swing toward more varied, imaginative and wide open offenses, they considered the defenses strong enough to control most of the games.

Better Defenses

In one way or another, about half the experts said that more emphasis on defensive play by the coaches and the resulting improvement of the players had caused the scoring decline in recent seasons. Only a few blamed conservatism and the ball-control offense.

About 35 others pointed specifically to the T and split-T formations whose popularity seems to have declined this year. The defenses have learned to stop plays from those formations, and although coaches have tried new, or different attacks, they haven't yet come up with a style that can't be stopped.

Defensive tactics are vastly improved over those of just a few years ago.

A quarterback no longer can call a play in the huddle to penetrate a certain defensive lineup and expect it to gain. He has to look again and often change when the teams line up.

About a dozen writers and broadcasters mentioned that there's less concentration of football talent on a few big teams and that schedules offer few soft touches. The result is that there's little opportunity to run up big scores.

Jayvees Rally Topples Ellenville JVs, 43-38

Rallying in the second half, Kingston High School's jayvees remained unbeaten by trimming the Ellenville juniors, 43-38, last night at the Kate Walton field house.

The visitors tallied a field goal just before halftime to deadlock the contest, 14-14, at the intermission. The third quarter was nip and tuck and a late surge by Kingston sent it ahead, 27-25, entering the final six minutes of playing time.

Bill Hurley's quintet pulled ahead by as many as ten points in the last quarter before a belated rally by the losers made the contest interesting.

Al Brown had 17 points for the winners and Joe VanDyke aided with 10. John Glusker led Ellenville with 13.

Jim Lee Howell Dazed by Success

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Lee Howell looks you straight in the eye when he tells you that nobody—but nobody—is more surprised than he over the New York Giants' amazing climb into a first-place Eastern Conference deadlock with the Cleveland Browns.

The tall Giant coach watched his squad persevere through its next-to-last stiff workout for the big playoff game Sunday against the Browns for the right to meet Baltimore in the NFL title game. "When the season started I didn't think we'd win more than four games. And if I had known about all those injuries I'd have said we'd be lucky to win more than two games."

To what did he attribute the Giants' 9-3 record? "A great defense, a good bench. Spirit, hustle, will to win, increasing confidence with each victory. Harmony and unity," he said.

Big Joe Mahar, sub-anchor for Zeeh's Beverages, toppled a 622 series with games of 211, 179 and 232 in last night's session of the Central Rec League.

Will Harridge Makes Farewell Speech

Tells Newsmen Next Party Will Be in Boston

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Only a score of hanger-ons still were at the bar. Several hours earlier Thursday night the room was crammed with 500 guests.

The 23rd annual American League Christmas party had ended — the last one to be given by Will Harridge.

Harridge finally turned to his remaining friends. "Guess it's time for me to go," he said. "See you at the ball games."

The retiring president of the American League then was helped on with his coat by his son, Bill. He tucked several Christmas-wrapped parcels under his arm and left.

Earlier, the 73-year-old Harridge quipped: "Well, the next American League Christmas Party will be in Boston. Maybe, I'll charter a plane and take you newsmen with me there."

Cronin New Man
Joe Cronin of the Red Sox is expected to replace Harridge, president since 1931.

Harridge, nattily attired as always was his usual glowing, graciously-smiling self throughout the five-hour stag affair.

It was his official farewell to hundreds of friends — players, former players, club executives, dignitaries from other sports, old cronies of his Wabash Railroad days, Commissioner Ford Frick and National League President Warren Giles.

It was the most memorable of all Christmas parties given by Harridge. The parties started in a small way in his league office in 1936 and expanded to hotel size.

And never did anyone say: "I'll bet Harridge didn't know he had so many friends."

They knew he did.

Expect Browns To Run Plenty

CLEVELAND (AP) — Don't expect the Cleveland Browns to fill the air with passes Sunday on their return to Yankee Stadium—even though Coach Paul E. Brown has indicated his club will pass more than last Sunday.

For one thing, the New York Giants have been tough to pass against. For another, Browns' quarterback Milt Plum lacks experience.

The Giants, who beat the Browns 13-10 in their last encounter to tie things up at the top of the Eastern Conference standings and force a playoff, have allowed opponents to complete only 45.7 per cent of their pass attempts. This is the best record in the National Football League.

Against the Browns, opponents have completed 51.9 per cent.

Holway Hits 1500 Markers

Gary Holway, Albany State Teachers College's prolific scorer, went over the career 1,500-point mark last night, pouring through 28 points as State latched on to its sixth victory against a loss, disposing of Potsdam, 109-76, at Page Hall.

It was the highest point total recorded by the Peds this season, and Holway also came through with 13 rebounds.

Colavito Is 1958's Slugger

CHICAGO (AP) —Rocky Colavito, Cleveland's hard-hitting outfielder, led the American League last season in slugging with a .620 average.

Colavito finished far ahead of New York's Mickey Mantle, Kansas City's Bob Cerv and the 1957 champion Ted Williams of Boston. Mantle and Cerv climaxed the season with identical .592 averages and Williams, who won with a mark of .731 last year, finished fourth with a .584.

Colavito had 303 total bases in 489 times at bat. His 41 homers were second only to Mantle's 42. He hit 26 doubles, 3 triples and drove in 113 runs, total exceeded only by Jackie Jensen's 122 for Boston.

Mantle drew the most bases on balls, 129. In 1957 he led the league with 147. Of Mickey's 129 passes, 13 were intentional.

The champion Yankees led the league in team slugging with a .416 average. Cleveland was second with .403 followed by Boston with .400.

Valdes 7-5 Pick Over McMurtry

NEW YORK (AP) —Nino Valdes risks his lofty ranking and Pat McMurtry gets his big chance to night in a heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden.

Nino's voluble manager Bobby Gleason already has claimed the title for the 6-3 Cuban giant with the 81-inch reach.

McMurtry's manager his father, is particularly upset because his son didn't make the top 10 in the National Boxing Assn. ratings after he whipped George Chuvalo in the Garden Oct. 17. Ring was more impressed, placing him No. 10 among Floyd Patterson's contenders.

"I'm ready for the champ right now," said McMurtry, who hails from Tacoma, Wash. He is 26 and owns a fancy left.

His career record, dating back to 1954, is 30-2-1.

Big Nino, rated No. 2 by Ring and No. 4 by the NBA, is the man who really is taking a chance. After dropping a questionable decision to Alex Miteff in February, he has won five in a row. He took a decision over Wayne Bethea and Mike DeJohn, stopped Johnny Summerlin and Harold Carter and then whipped DeJohn again Aug. 15. He hasn't fought since but is a 7-5 favorite.

The Cuban was 34 Dec. 5. He has been fighting for since 1941, compiling a 46-15-2 record.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Syracuse Plans Full Workout

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder has ordered full-scale scrimmage Saturday for his football team in preparation for the New Year's Day meeting with Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

It will be the first heavy contact work for the Orangemen since their Nov. 22 game with West Virginia. The scrimmage will be in North Carolina State's Riddick Stadium.

Ed Keiffer, sophomore fullback who pulled a groin muscle Wednesday, was dressed but took it easy in Thursday's morning and afternoon workouts.

Roy Simmons, defensive backfield coach, was the only other practice casualty. He was smacked on the ankle.

Schwartzwalder, delighted with the Tar Heel weather, said "I just hope it holds up." The team will remain here through Dec. 27 before flying to Miami.

Texas League Okays Tie-In With Mexicans

DALLAS (AP) —Texas League club owners Thursday approved an alliance with the Mexican League and will send a delegation to a meeting of the latter circuit Saturday.

Under the proposal, instituted by Allen Russell, owner of the Austin Club, and Earle Halstead, scout for the Milwaukee Braves, who have a working agreement with Austin, there would be an inter-locking schedule with each Texas League club playing each Mexican League club a 3-game series both at home and abroad. The club owners anticipate this would bring an attendance boost.

Niagara Pressed To Defeat Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Niagara University had to display most of its wares Thursday night to down a stubborn University of Ohio basketball, 72-65, and remain undefeated. Niagara now is 4-0.

At Quantico, Va., the University of Buffalo returned to victory lane and third place in the Quantico Marines annual Christmas tournament with an 80-64 rout of Ball State (Ind.) The Marines won their own tournament for the fourth time in five years by conquering American University of Washington, 69-63.

Niagara's Ritchie Veith topped all scorers with 26 points in a nip-and-tuck game in which Ohio trailed by only four points at half-time. In the second half, however, Niagara caught fire, fashioned a seven-point lead, and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Hot-shooting Buffalo built a 38-24 half-time lead and never was threatened in the second half by the Midwesterners. The Bulls' Paul Mallon and Ball State's Jim Cook topped all scorers with 17 points each.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) —

Samuel Goldwyn says he is taking the biggest gamble of his 46-year career as a film producer—and won't profit a penny if he wins.

He declared he has dropped seven million dollars of his own money into the making of "Porgy and Bess." Except for shares which go to his wife and son, the entire profits will be given to his Goldwyn Foundation for charitable works.

Uncertain of Response

"That is, if there are any profits," he added. "I'm not even sure of that. I have done what nobody else has tried before—put a real

American opera on the screen. I don't know if the public will go for an opera. Nobody knows.

"I'll have to attract a lot of people to make a success of it. With a seven-million-dollar investment,

I will have to make 15 millions in order to break even. I don't know if I can do it.

"But I'll tell you one thing: I will not disguise 'Porgy and Bess.'

The ads will state plainly that it is an opera. I don't think it does any good to lie to the public about what a thing is. If they don't like it, they won't come, no matter what you call it."

Rights Cost $650,000

The 74-year-old movie maker had just finished final retakes for the picture.

"The rights alone cost a minimum of $650,000, with more to be paid as a royalty," he said. "It took months of negotiations to nail down the contract. I had Oliver

Smith here for seven months to design the sets, and Irene Sharaff for the same time doing the costumes.

Every costume was created from scratch.

"I had an orchestra and 80-voice chorus working for four months on the prerecordings. Most of the songs are dubbed, so that meant practically a duplicate cast.

More Work Ahead

"The filming required four months, both on location in Stock ton and here at the studio. The

Todd-AO process is enormously expensive. And now that the filming is over, the scoring begins.

Andre Previn will take at least

10 weeks to write the score, another four to record it."

Music note: Guitars are now tops in the mail order musical instrument department at Montgomery Ward, edging out harmonicas which were in first place for many years. Company experts credit the popularity of westerns and western music. Ukuleles are in third place.

Mr. Williams was determined to stop his son John from borrowing. When John swaggered into the house and told his dad that he had used one of his shirts that morning, Mr. Williams replied: Mr. Williams—That's all right, son. I used a pair of your green socks this morning. John—The joke's on you, dad. Those were your socks I borrowed a week ago. And say, pop, I just took two gallons of gas from your tank for my flivver. That's OK, isn't it? Mr. Williams—Sure. I bought that gas with your allowance money for next week. Run along and have a good time.

The garrulous lady had cornered the famous judge. Lady—I hear that you have quite a reputation, Judge, for being able to judge a woman's character from her clothing. Now, what would be your verdict on my sister over there? Judge (taking a look, then a good look)—Insufficient evidence.

You can't tell; maybe the fish goes home and brags about the size of the bait he stole.

Don't lose faith in humanity. Think of all the people in the U. S. who never played you a dirty trick.

Prexy finally had to call the indifferent student to his office. President of college—Why did you ever come to college if you're not going to study? Student—Well, I'm not really sure myself, sir. Mother says it's to fit me to be President; Uncle John says it's to sow my wild oats; my sister thinks I ought to get a rich friend for her to marry; and dad says it's to bankrupt the family.

Neighbors—Does your husband live up to the promises he made during his courtship days? Mrs. P.—Always. In those days he said he wasn't good enough for me and he's been proving it ever since.

Meets Labor Heads*Won't Be Pressured, Rocky Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller told top state labor leaders Thursday night that he will not be "subject to any pressure group from any side, or from any special interest."

The governor-elect said he wants only "to represent the best interests of the people" and was available to representatives of any group "who have the same point of view."

Rockefeller, a Republican, met 52 union leaders at a cocktail reception given by Victor Borella, his chief labor adviser in the campaign. Borella is executive vice president of Rockefeller Center, Inc.

Rockefeller described the meeting as largely a social get-together. There was no discussion in detail on any subject, including possible labor legislation, he added.

The governor-elect said his door will always be open to representatives of labor or any other group working for the best interests of the people.

Most labor leaders backed Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman in the campaign.

Some of the union leaders who attended were Harold C. Hanover, president of the merged State AFL-CIO; Louis Hollander, chairman of the state organization's Executive Council; Alex Rose, president of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers; David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union; and Harry Van Arsdale, president of the Central Trades and Labor Council.

Chrysler in New Offer to Halt 18-Day Dispute

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. negotiators bargained into the early hours today in a marathon session aimed at ending an 18-day-old dispute which has idled some 44,000 company workers.

Negotiators started the lengthy session Thursday, kept at it Thursday night with brief recesses, and continued into the early morning hours.

Chrysler was understood to have made a new offer Thursday night in an effort to settle the strike of 7,100 UAW members at its key Dodge Main plant here. The strike has cut parts for other company plants across the country idling another 35,000 workers.

Details of the reported company offer were not released. The area of disagreement has narrowed to relief time for some 400 metal shop workers at Dodge Main.

Bandits Get $13,000

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP) — Two bandits dressed in conservative business suits and carrying a briefcase robbed a home in this Westchester County city Thursday of $13,000 in cash and jewels.

The bandits rang the doorbell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lane. When Lane answered, they trained guns on him, marched him upstairs and tied his wife to the bed.

Lane was forced to open a safe. From it, the robbers scooped up gems and about $3,000 in cash.

After tying Lane to the same bed, the robbers stripped rings from Mrs. Lane's fingers.

Before leaving, the robbers cut the telephone wires in the house. They used the briefcase to carry off the loot and escaped in Lane's car. It was later found abandoned about a half-mile away.

Lane is banquet manager of the Delmonico Hotel on Manhattan's Park Avenue.

Prosecutor Slain

BAYONNE, N. J. (AP)—A shotgun blast has claimed the life of City Prosecutor Stephen F. Sladowski and as many as five persons may be able to identify his killer.

Sladowski was found face down in the rear of his grocery store-delicatessen Thursday night, fatally wounded in the chest. Four teen-agers told police they witnessed the shooting by a youth of about 19.

Police were told that the killer ran from the store, fired a shot through the window, striking Sladowski, and ran to a corner where he was picked up by a 1952 Mercury.

Channel Chatter*'Hasty Heart' Is Top TV Vehicle

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway supplied television with a work of superb entertainment Thursday night when "The Hasty Heart" was presented on CBS-TV.

Don Murray gave a tremendous performance as a dour, doomed Scottish sergeant of World War II who tried to reject love and friendship in a Burma hospital.

Barbara Bel Geddes, who appears on television too infrequently, was grand as the nurse who fell in love with the sergeant.

Jackie Cooper was outstanding as the Yankee member of the international set of patients in a field hospital.

Three Awaiting Sentence on Use Of $39,697 Funds

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Two women officers of a trucking company and a former bank cashier are awaiting sentencing on charges of misapplying $39,697 in funds of a North Creek bank.

The three pleaded guilty Thursday in U. S. District Court to three counts of a federal indictment.

The three are Cleon L. Hall, former cashier of the First National Bank of North Creek; Edith E. Mitchell, president of the North Creek Trucking Co., and Ruth M. Foote, secretary-treasurer of the trucking company.

Bail of $500 each was continued pending sentencing Jan. 8.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Andrew J. Gulick said the women wrote checks on the Emerson National Bank of Warrensburg, Warren County, last February for sums of $15,600 and $24,097. They were cashed at the bank in North Creek, Warren County.

Channel Master Profit Sharing Grant Announced

For the seventh consecutive year, Channel Master Corp. has made a maximum contribution to its employees' profit sharing retirement plan, it was announced today by Harry Resnick, president and general manager of the Ellenville manufacturing concern.

This year's contribution to the fund is $468,842.57, an amount equal to 15 per cent of every participant's earning for the year.

The fund also grew by an additional $109,961.06 in interest, bringing the total growth for the year to $578,803.63.

The fund is owned entirely by the participating employees of Channel Master Corporation. The employees, however, make no contribution to the fund. All contributions are made by the company and represent the major share of company profits.

The profit sharing plan has been in existence for 7 years and each year Channel Master has been able to make the maximum grant of 15 per cent. Seven hundred and four employees now participate in the plan, sharing a total of $2,862,978.14. Benefits are paid to employees upon their retirement, or to their families in the event of death.

News Strike Is Likely to Hold Through Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—New Yorkers face a second weekend without nine major city dailies. The 10-day-old newspaper strike appeared likely to continue at least until Monday.

Joint talks between the striking Deliverers' Union and the Publishers Assn. of New York City, broken off last Tuesday, are scheduled to resume Monday afternoon.

Until then, federal mediators will confer separately with the publishers and the deliverers. "If circumstances warrant," the mediation service said Thursday "an earlier joint meeting will be scheduled."

"We want to get back to work," a publishers' spokesman said, "we are ready to talk."

Asher Schwartz, deliverers' union lawyer, asked Wednesday that negotiations be resumed as soon as possible.

Last night, the union asked the nine other newspaper unions to "join actively in this fight and to unite their resources for ultimate victory."

The nine unions—the Newspaper Guild and eight mechanical groups—will meet Monday morning to review the strike situation.

All except a small group of typographers have ignored deliverers' picket lines. Failure of typographers to report to work at the Daily News after the strike began led to the suspension of publication by all nine newspapers.

Local Delegates Attend State Youth Assembly

The 23rd session of the New York State Youth and Government Assembly held in Albany closed Sunday following a round of legislative meetings which started Friday afternoon.

Among the 500 representatives attending from Hi-Y Clubs throughout the state were three local delegates from Bookwalter and Hi-Y Filia Clubs of Kingston Y.M.C.A. They were Miss Anita Gianuzzi of 167 Clinton Avenue, Philip Adornato of Port Even and Fred Alan Schoonmaker of 627 Delaware Avenue.

Frank Rebello, youth director, accompanied them.

The Hi-Y Filia Club sponsored a bill which would provide for all 18 year old boys and girls to carry an authorized identification card for the purpose of purchasing alcoholic beverages. The bill was passed in committee but did not reach the assembly because of lack of time.

Wicks Hose to Treat Children on Monday

Members and the Ladies' Auxiliary of A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Co., Inc., have set Monday, Dec. 22, from 7 until 10 p. m. for their annual Christmas party for children of members up to 12 years of age.

Santa Claus has arranged for a giant Christmas tree and he will be on hand to distribute gifts to all attending.

Anti-Red Poles Bid Prime Stay in Rome

ROME (AP) — Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski left for Warsaw today as scores of Poles in exile from communism shouted: "Don't go back! You'll never be able to leave again!"

The Roman Catholic primate of Poland came to Rome two months ago for the conclave which elected Pope John XXIII to succeed Pius XII.

At the railroad station today anti-Communist Poles pressed about the prelate, clutching at his robes and shouting. Cardinal Wyszynski was under house arrest in Poland during the 1953 consistory at which he became a cardinal. After Wladyslaw Gomulka rose to power in Poland in 1956, he was released and relations between church and state improved.

Nativity Scene Starts Tonight At Dutch Church

At Old Dutch Church, Main and Wall Streets, the Nativity scene will be portrayed beginning tonight from 7 to 9 and continuing each evening through Christmas eve. This year, the 10th that the members of the congregation have staged this holiday scene, members of the church play the roles of Mary, Joseph, the shepherds and the Magi in recreating the events in Bethlehem from the birth of Christ to the visit and adoration of the Wise Men.

Live animals roam about the stable which forms the background for the portrayal and carillon music is amplified from the church tower during the presentation which is without dialogue.

Members of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society will staff the scene this evening.

Reaction Is Mixed

PARIS (AP)—European NATO diplomats today viewed Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's coming trip to America as a political gesture connected with the West Berlin crisis and a possible East-West summit meeting.

They regarded the Soviet maneuver with mixed feelings of hope that it might ease tensions, and fear that their governments would be bypassed by the two world giants, the United States and the Soviet Union.
